New Sacred Heart Rectory in Moore St

Within a week, it is expected, the new and commodious rectory of the Oblate Fathers of the Sacred Heart parish, will be ready for occupancy and the priests of the parish will move into one of the best and most up-to-date dwellings of its kind in the city. Work on the construction of the new building began about a year ago, the old wooden building which has served as a parish house for several years, being removed to a vacant lot in the rear of the church on St. James street.

The new structure is a three story brick building conveniently located next to the church in Moore street. It is 32 by 59 feet long with a two story ell 35 by 25 feet. The trimmings are of cut stone and the cornices of terra cotta. The main entrance is on Moore street, leading into a spacious vestibule and well appointed corridor. On the first floor are the offices and reception rooms, splendidly equipped chapel, main stairway dining room and serving room. In the rear of the building on this floor, which is entirely separated from the main building, are the bed rooms and baths for the attendants.

The second floor contains six bedrooms with four shower rooms, connecting from room to room. In the rear, overlooking the lawn, is the general living room with a large sun porch connected. The third floor contains five bed rooms with three connecting showers. The study room and library is located on this floor which is fitted with book cases, etc.

The basement contains the kitchen, pantries, store rooms, laundry, heating plant and general storage and every modern convenience to facilitate the duties of the attendants.

The building is finished throughout in plain oak, with oak and maple floors. The shower rooms are lined with tile and the floors are of terrazzo, while the floors of the porches are of Red Quarry tile. The plan of the building makes an ideal community house and is a great improvement to the Sacred Heart parish.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETING TONIGHT

It is felt that before the smoke of discussion clears away at tonight's meeting of the school committee it will be found that the school department will need nearer $50,000 than $20,000 as a supplemental budget to carry it through the year without a deficit.

Two members of the committee today pointed to the out of $54,000 made in the department's estimates early in the year before the original budget was voted and said it will be impossible to finance the department without most of this money being voted back in a supplemental appropriation.

A warm discussion over rules of procedure also is expected tonight. At present the committee is operating under the rules of 1922, adopted until a new set was approved, but some members of the committee feel new rules should be drawn up and on one or two specific instances, change some of the rules now in force. A rules committee, named some time ago, has not met, it is said, and it is the intention of several members to endeavor to have some action taken.

NEW FEATURE EMBODIED IN PLANS FOR FIRE HOUSE IN THE OAKLANDS DISTRICT

A new feature in fire engine house construction never before attempted in this vicinity, at least, is embodied in architect's plans of the new Oakland house now in process of construction in the office of Davis & Ryan.

When complete the plans will call for front and rear doors, the front for exit and the rear for entrance. This will eliminate turning and backing the apparatus into the house on return from a fire. The idea came in the form of a suggestion from Chief Edward F. Saunders and while it was a new and somewhat radical departure from the accepted scheme of such buildings, it is working out splendidly, the architects say, and will be productive of much favorable criticism.

The chief, the architects and Building Inspector Francis A. Connor, feel the house will be of great interest to fire and building officials all over the country and expect to see the idea copied in many cities. The two-door plan would not work out advantageously in every location, but there is nothing to prevent it in connection with the Oakland site, for there plenty of land is available for driveway use in the rear.

The house will be of brick construction built in the shape of a T and will accommodate one piece of apparatus and crew. The city has appropriated $35,000 for its erection and the architects said today they expect to remain well within bounds in the matter of cost. It is expected plans will be matured sufficiently within two weeks to allow the inspector of buildings to call for construction bids.

ROTARIANS AT MOUNT PLEASANT GOLF CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Rotary club, the fourth under the summer schedule, was held this noon at the Mt. Pleasant Golf club and was attended by about 70 members. Luncheon was served in the dining hall of the clubhouse at 12:30 o'clock by the Page Catering Co., and following this a short business session was held. In accordance with the rules for the summer meetings there was no after-dinner speakers.

OUTDOOR SHOWER BATHS DELIVERED

Two outdoor shower baths, five of which recently were ordered by the park department, were delivered today. The other three will arrive by the end of the week. On the first hot day the showers will be attached to hydrants near the North common. Shedd park and wherever there seems to be a need. It is believed these showers will become the most valued and most used equipment of the department.

"Hat in Ring for Presidency if Citizenry of Alabama Requests It"

Not for Him to Name Candidate, But if Honored He's Ready For Battle

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 31.—In an address before the Mobile delegation of the Alabama legislature, this morning at a local hotel, Senator Oscar W. Underwood declared that if the citizenry of Alabama requested it, that his hat was "in the ring for the presidency."

"It is not for me to name Alabama's candidates for president of the United States, but if this great state names me as her standard bearer, all the fighting spirit I have will be enlisted to carry democracy's call to triumph."

POLICE WORKING ON CASE

Men Wanted for Alleged Attempted Assault Still at Large

No new developments transpired today in the case of Miss Ruth Whitney, the Cambridge girl who jumped out of an automobile near Nutting lake Saturday night when she alleged one of the young men in the machine attempted to assault her. Miss Whitney is still in St. John's hospital recovering from a broken collar bone.

Chief Henry D. Livingstone of the Billerica police is working on the case and either today or tomorrow he plans to go to Boston to interview Miss Elaine Waterman, who was with Miss Whitney in the machine.

The two girls were about to leave the lake for home Saturday night, when two young men volunteered to give them a lift in their auto. They did not know the young men, and Miss Whitney claims that shortly after they left the lake one of the young men attempted to assault her and she jumped out.

The Billerica police say that the young men called each other "Maurice" and "Nap," but up to the present time they have nothing further upon which to work.

Physicians Encouraged as President Harding Passes Best Night Since His Illness Began

LATEST OFFICIAL BULLETIN ON CONDITION OF PRESIDENT

PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, PALACE HOTEL, SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding passed the "best night, comparatively, since he has been ill," Brig. Gen. Sawyer, his personal physician, said in a statement at 8 o'clock this morning. (This is 12 o'clock Lowell time).

"The president has had the best night, comparatively, that he has had since his illness began," said General Sawyer. "That augurs well. The conditions seem to warrant the statement that apparently he has gotten into clear sailing."

Gen. Sawyer confined his announcement to this brief statement after a consultation with other attending physicians.

The president took some nourishment this morning and read the newspapers.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF NURSES' HOME AT THE LOWELL CORPORATION HOSPITAL

Without pomp or elaborate ceremony, but amid expressions of genuine surprise and satisfaction, the new nurses' home at the Lowell Corporation hospital was officially opened at two o'clock this afternoon when 21 student nurses and seven graduate nurses of the hospital formally took up their abode in one of the most pretentious and comfortable community houses of its nature in New England.

The new house is ideally situated at the summit of Merrimack street, near Pawtucket and easily accessible to the hospital. Formerly located on the present site of the modern home was a two-story house of ancient design, built in 1850 and impracticable for the proper purpose of the purpose intended. OVER $1700 COLLECTED FOR MOTOR LAW VIOLATIONS HERE IN JULY

A total of $1763 in fines was collected in Lowell District court during the month of July, which closes today, from offenders convicted of violations of the motor vehicle laws. This amount is far in excess of any other single month, a record breaker in fact.

So far this year, a total of $5535 has been collected in fines for violation of the motor laws, and this is only a few hundred behind the preceding three months.

LOWELL DOCTOR FOUND GUILTY IN DRIVING AUTO SO AS TO ENDANGER LIVES

Dr. Adam E. Shaw was found guilty by Judge Enright in district court today of driving an automobile in such a manner as to endanger lives. The defendant was the operator of an auto that struck and killed Frederick W. Althell on Pawtucket street on June 23. Judge Enright continued the case until Saturday when sentence will be imposed.

A manslaughter complaint was originally sworn against the defendant, but as a result of the finding of the presiding judge at the inquest, the manslaughter complaint was dismissed. (Continued to Page Three)

TRAPPED BY FLOOD, THREE MINERS PERISH

PUNNSUITAWNEY, Pa., July 31.—Trapped by the flood waters of Plum creek which left its course and poured down the slope of the Blinn-Salter coal mine, seventeen miners from here, Emil Johnson, Ed. Gustafson and Gust Carlson, miners, were drowned last night. Four other miners escaped. One body floated out of the mine this morning.

The ninety-fifth semi-annual meeting of the stockholders of Lowell Cooperative Association will be held in Gold Hollow Hall, Middlesex st., on Friday evening, Aug. 2, 1923, at 8 o'clock, for election of officers and such other business as may legally come before the meeting.

President Fighting Greatest Battle of Career—A Struggle in Which Life is at Stake

Partisanship Forgotten as Nation Joins in Prayer for President's Recovery.

PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, PALACE HOTEL, SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding was so far refreshed by a sleep which lasted more than six hours last night, that he said this morning he felt able to look at the news of the day and sent out for the morning papers, all of which were devoted largely to accounts of his illness.

Watchers Encouraged
PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, PALACE HOTEL, SAN FRANCISCO, July 31. (By the Associated Press).—President Harding, who fell asleep shortly after midnight last night, had a night which was regarded by watchers as encouraging. He had obtained more than six hours' sleep and at 6:15 a. m. was still asleep.

From midnight on the quiet of the presidential suite was broken only by the frequent visits of Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone, the physician who had direct charge of the patient throughout the night, to the sick room. Each visit was the same—a quiet opening of the door, a brief stay inside, and an equally quiet closing of the portal. No comment was forthcoming after any of these visits, but as the night wore on, an air of greater cheerfulness than had been evident last night, was worn by the physician.

All was quiet in the vicinity of the presidential suite, many members of the executive's party having retired for a brief rest period. In the corridors near the suite, secret service men remained on guard, while a few newspapermen stood on watch for possible developments in the press room which has been established on the same floor. City police guarded stairways from the lower floors.

PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, PALACE HOTEL, SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—(By the Associated Press).—President Harding, characteristically calm and determined, is fighting the

Demand Expulsion of Havenstein

BERLIN, July 31.—(By the Associated Press)—The United States socialists are demanding the retirement of Rudolf Havenstein, president of the Reichsbank and the managing directors of that institution, on the ground that they have failed to devise and put into execution a program of financial reform which would have prevented the collapse of the mark. A change of administration, this group asserts will contribute to restoring the credit of the Reichsbank and will serve to inspire confidence at home and abroad.

O'BRIEN'S for DYSPEPSIA

The World's Greatest Stomach Remedy

Don't experiment on a stomach remedy. You don't have to! A New England doctor years ago made a reputation for curing stomach ills. He prescribed a medicine that did its work surely—effectively. Twenty-five years ago he permitted this same prescription to be compounded under the trade name of O'BRIEN'S for Dyspepsia. Since then many have gained healthy digestion through its use. They bought it from druggists—they saved endless dollars and endless hours of suffering.

O'BRIEN'S for Dyspepsia—compounded from the highest grade ingredients—Wine of Pepsin, Bismuth Citrate, Cinchona Alkaloids and Aromatics. Ask any stomach specialist about the medicinal value of these ingredients. He will tell you, as your druggist will tell you, that they are widely used.

So remarkable has been the success of O'BRIEN'S for Dyspepsia that it is now sold under the broadest guarantee ever given. Read it—then get your bottle from the nearest druggist listed below.

GUARANTEE

In chronic cases we recommend taking the full treatment of at least three bottles of O'BRIEN'S. If after taking this full treatment you have not obtained absolute relief return the three empty O'Brien bottles to your druggist and money will be refunded.

MATRIMONIAL.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place yesterday afternoon when Miss Mabel M. Tansy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Tansy of 68 Loring street, and Patrick J. Hogan a popular employee of the Boston Malt, St. Ice Co. were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at five o'clock at St. Margaret's parochial residence, Rev. Chas. J. Galligan, pastor, being the officiating clergyman. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen B. Tansy and the best man was Mr. John H. Graham. The bride wore white crepe de chine trimmed with chautilly lace; a veil trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a bridal bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a gown of grey georgette over pink and carried Columbia roses. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold piece, and the groom's gift to the best man was a traveling bag. A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 68 Loring street, and a wedding supper was served. The ushers at the home were George Burns, Joseph Tansy and Alfred Burns. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and palm. During the evening a musical program was furnished under the direction of Mr. James McMahon. Guests were present from Clinton, Cambridge and Marblehead. The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Hogan left on a honeymoon trip to New York, Washington and Philadelphia. They will be at home to friends after September at their new home, 217 Liberty street, this city.

Lowney—McCabe
Miss Mary Helen McCabe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. McCabe of 516 Lawrence street, and Mr. Patrick A. Lowney, son of Mrs. Ellen Lowney of 571 Lawrence street, were married at the Sacred Heart rectory yesterday afternoon by Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I. Miss Anna McCabe, a sister of the bride, was the bride's attendant while the best man was Mr. Walter W. Lowney, a brother of the bridegroom. The bride wore a wedding dress of tan moiré silk with picture hat to match, while the bridesmaid wore a dress of grey tulle with hat to match. The bride carried a bouquet of white and pink tea roses, the bridesmaid a bouquet of pink Columbia roses. The bride gave her attendant a string of pearl beads and the bridesmaid gave the best man a pair of gold cuff links. After the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 516 Lawrence street, where a wedding supper was served by Harvey. Mr. and Mrs. Lowney will be at home to friends after Aug. 20.

Tourville—Champagne
Mr. Alphonse Tourville and Miss Rose A. Champagne were united in marriage at 1 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Joseph's church by Rev. Armand Barin, O.M.I. The couple was attended by Mr. Eugene Champagne, father of the bride and Mr. Wilfred Tourville, brother of the bridegroom. The choir, under the direction of Miss Canine, rendered appropriate hymns. The bride was attired in white tulle with veil caught up with lilies-of-the-valley, and carried a showy bouquet of roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 453 Moody street. The couple left yesterday afternoon for an extended trip to New York. Upon their return Saturday, a reception will be tendered at the home of the bride's parents.

Kepler—Frad
The wedding of Miss Beryl Madeline Frad, formerly of this city, and Mr. Dana Evans Kepler, of Chicago, took place in Chicago at the Hyde Park Methodist Episcopal church, July 28, at 1 o'clock. Rev. William F. English, D.D., formerly pastor of the Kirk Street Congregational church, performed the wedding ceremony. Mrs. Kepler was a graduate of the Lowell high and normal schools and was well known in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Kepler took a wedding trip through Glen park, Denver, Colo., where the bridegroom resided prior to his living in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Kepler will be at home, Oct. 1, to friends, at 5125 Blackstone avenue, Chicago.

Lemieux—Belier
At a nuptial mass celebrated at 8 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Louis church, Mr. Joseph H. Lemieux and Miss Yvonne Belier were united in the bonds of matrimony by Rev. Father Labossiere, pastor of the church. During the ceremony the choir rendered appropriate selections. Miss Irene Mercier, rendered Rosalie's Ave Marie, and the Misses Irene Mercier and Laura Picard, "O Salutaris." The bride was attired in white with veil caught up with lilies-of-the-valley.

"Black Gold" Fails to Change Her

EILEEN DE NOYA

By N.E.A. Service
PONCA CITY, Okla., July 27.—Back in the days of '49, Eileen DeNoya's great-grandfather struck out for California in search of gold.

But Eileen, prettiest and most popular maiden in the Osage Indian tribe, content with the life among her people, never strayed far from her native district.

Yet plenty of gold has come her way. And it was discovered right on her allotment on the government reservation near here.

It was not the shiny, glittering, yellow gold her grandfather sought. It was black. But it was just as profitable.

Oil today is spouting from hundreds of wells on Eileen's lands. And the town, which sprang up here almost overnight, bears the name of the Indian girl upon whose acres it was built.

Now it's the most enterprising little city in the entire Osage field, recognized as the greatest oil producing section in the world.

Eileen has received many offers for her land. But all her would-be suitors have been rejected. Letters proposing marriage arrive in every mail.

The beautiful Osage princess wants only to be left alone. She's satisfied with a life of quiet luxury and ease here among her people.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 85 Ludlum street after which the couple left for an extended trip to Canada.

Rowe Says So. American Countries No Longer Regard Doctrine as Protection

WILMAMSTOWN, July 31.—South American countries no longer look upon the Monroe Doctrine as a source of protection to them, Leo S. Rowe, director-general of the Pan-American Union, said in an address which opened the conference on international problems of the American continent, at the Institute of Politics today. Dr. Rowe thought this fact should be kept in mind by the United States when dealing with problems of the continent.

South Americans were described as having no fear of aggression or oppression from European and as yet failing to lend an ear to isolation sentiments.

"SOCIAL INADEQUATES" SENT TO UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, July 31.—It appears as if some governments are sending their social inadequates to the United States to avoid their custodial care. Mrs. Muriel Lynch Crichton, a special investigator, sent by Secretary Davis of the labor department, to study immigration details in Europe, reported today to Acting Secretary Edward J. Henning.

Recommending a "selective policy" of immigration control, Mrs. Crichton added that she had heard of "young criminals receiving suspended sentences on condition that they emigrate to the United States."

"The selection of prospective immigrants should be made overseas," she said, "and not at an American port of entry. Too often passports are issued abroad only to have the alien denied admission at Ellis Island."

Lowell Doctor Found Guilty

missed, and a new complaint sworn out.

Walter C. Jussman, driver of an ice cart, testified that just before the accident happened he noticed Dr. Shaw driving along the street, at a rate of about 30 miles an hour. As the machine passed the ice cart, Mr. Jussman said he looked around after it, and when the accident happened.

There were several boys riding in the ice wagon, but Mr. Jussman thought they had all jumped off before the auto came along. It appeared, however, that the boy who was killed was the last to jump off, and while running from the wagon to the sidewalk, he was struck.

The witness testified that the boy was dragged a few feet after being hit, and that the machine was brought to a stop about 30 feet from where the body lay. Dr. Shaw then took the boy to the hospital.

Charles Ringer also offered testimony as to the rate of speed in connection with the previous witness, and several of the boys who were riding in the ice wagon also told their version of the accident.

Dr. Shaw in his testimony said he could not just remember what happened previous to the accident, but his impression was that he was not going over 15 miles an hour. He could not recall how many boys ran across the road, but said his impression was that when at a distance of about 50 feet from the ice cart he saw one boy run across the road. The doctor then took his foot off the gas, but under questioning he said he did not apply his brakes.

The witness was "hazy" about just when he saw the boy that was struck. He told of later tests made in his car at the place where the accident occurred.

Sergeant Fred Cotter, police department chauffeur, testified that at the request of Dr. Shaw, he made several tests in the auto, a 1914 State sedan. The tests were made near the spot where the accident occurred, where there is a slight up-grade.

Sergeant Cotter said that while driving at a rate of 15 miles an hour, he brought the car to a stop at 21 feet with the foot brake. Driving at the rate of 20 miles, he stopped at 42.5 feet, and at the rate of 25 miles he stopped at 55 feet. Driving at the rate of 30 miles an hour, and applying both the foot and emergency brakes, he testified, he brought the car to a stop at 10 feet; at 15 miles an hour he stopped at 17.5 feet, and driving at 20 miles an hour he stopped at 35.5 feet, by applying both emergency and foot brakes.

Testimony in regard to the tests was corroborated by Daniel P. Mori-

BILL AGAINST TRUSTEES FORMER LOWELL MAN OF EASTERN MASS. DIES SUDDENLY

BOSTON, July 31.—A bill in equity and a petition for a writ of mandamus were brought in the supreme court today by L. Sherman Adams of Woburn, seeking to compel the public trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. to pay a further dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. on adjustment stock accruing in February last and also a dividend of 4 per cent. on common shares.

These dividends would total $1,249,956. Mr. Adams, who holds a considerable amount of various classes of the company's stock, says that the claim of the trustees that earnings and surplus are insufficient to pay these dividends, is wholly unwarranted on the face of the trustees' reports to the department of public utilities and that their refusal to pay is against the requirements of the statute placing the property under the management of public trustees.

MASS. INCOME TAXES

TOTAL $13,500,000

BOSTON, July 31.—State income tax collections in Massachusetts will total $13,500,000 this year as against $12,000,000 in 1922, an increase of about 12 per cent., according to a statement issued by Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long today. Notification of the distribution of the income tax according to the share of the various cities and towns in the state tax was sent out today to all local assessors. Under the law local assessors must use the total amount of the income tax distributed to reduce the money tax levy.

ly, who was with Sgt. Cotter and Dr. Shaw when the tests were made.

Attorney Bradbrook Walsh, counsel for the defendant, laid great stress upon the testimony of Sgt. Cotter in his argument, as against the testimony of Mr. Jussman that the car was traveling at the rate of 30 miles an hour and was brought to a stop within 30 feet.

In summing up the case Judge Wright said he was impressed by the testimony of Mr. Jussman, particularly in reference to that part in which the witness said that the car was traveling at such speed as to cause him to turn around and look after it.

The court felt that there was sufficient evidence for conviction, and so ordered, but because of the extenuating circumstances in the case, the death of a boy, the court desired further time to think it over before passing sentence. Imposition of sentence was deferred until Saturday.

TROTZKY NOW FOREMOST FIGURE IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, July 31.—Since Premier Lenin became seriously ill, Leon Trotsky, soviet Russia's war commissar, has become the foremost figure in the soviet government. He has no working day. Every workman, laborer or employee in soviet Russia has an 8-hour working day conspicuously looked after by the Trade Union council and guarded by the labor code. But Trotsky has none. His working day is much over eight hours and as regards time, day and night are treated alike.

Trotsky begins his day with the newspapers. They serve him as a means of everyday human connection and business information. He reads them just as he would listen to a report by one of his officers and very often the newspaper information is followed by quick interpretation.

Very often a news telegram, a reporter's item, or a quite uninteresting interview paves the road for an important decision. Then at various times during the day and night, Trotsky reads and dictates.

He always reads with a pencil in hand, which he holds like a surgeon holds his instrument. He underlines, annotates, numbers the author's works. He relaxes by indulging in his favorite sports, hunting and fishing.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Prohibition has been of great benefit to American workmen, particularly those in the steel industry, Albert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, said in a statement to the New York Times today.

Despite violations of the 18th amendment in large cities, the good effects of prohibition, he said, included decreases in crime and poverty, and increases in health and savings of workers.

Mr. Gary opposed proposals to amend the Volstead act to permit the sale of light wines and beer.

Railway Employees Vote to Strike

NEWARK, N. J., July 31.—Employees of the public service railway company's lines in Newark, Paterson, Camden, Jersey City, Elizabeth, New Brunswick and other New Jersey towns today voted overwhelmingly in favor of a strike to begin at midnight tonight to obtain their demands for a 20 per cent. wage increase and improved working conditions.

Decoyed By Message Doctor Beaten

BOSTON, July 31.—Decoyed by a message from a man who telephoned in an agitated voice that his little baby was dying, Dr. David M. Bloom hurried to Orleans street, late last night. When he arrived robbers leaped upon him, choked him into unconsciousness and rifled his pockets, taking $50. Bruised and weak he made his way to the district police station to report the case early today.

Six Indictments Against N. Y. Broker

NEW YORK, July 31.—Six indictments were returned today against Louis Montgomery Kardos, formerly head of the stock brokerage concern of Kardos and Burke, which failed last year for more than $2,000,000.

Lightning and Fire Destroy Big Church

ATTICA, N. Y., July 31.—Fire late yesterday afternoon destroyed St. Patrick's church at Java Center, after lightning struck the spire. The edifice, one of the largest in Wyoming county, was built in 1871. Loss was estimated at $50,000.

Fleeing Boy Shot By Policeman

NEW YORK, July 31.—When Benjamin Forman, 16, chased by Policeman Goldman early today, turned and made a quick movement with his right hand, the bluecoat, thinking the boy was about to draw a pistol, shot him through the stomach. He is in a serious condition. The boy was charged with burglary and felonious assault.

SYMPTOMS OF DEBILITY

How to Tell Whether Your Blood Needs Revitalizing

The symptoms of general debility vary according to the cause, but weakness is always present, a tendency to fatigue and fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, sometimes black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, vertigo, wakefulness caused by inability to stop thinking and unrefreshing sleep. The cause of the trouble may be some drain on the system or it may be mental or physical overwork, sometimes insufficient nutrition due to digestive disturbance.
If you have any or all of these symptoms try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and as the new blood courses through your veins there should be an increase in your appetite, a better digestion and soon a renewal of strength and vigor.
Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your drugstore today or write to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., enclosing 60 cents and a box will be sent you, postpaid. A little book, "Building Up the Blood," which explains the treatment, will be sent free on request—Adv.

TO RUN RUM SHOP ON OCEAN

Circular Distributed in London Inviting Investment in Scheme to Ship Whiskey

Sir Broderick Hartwell, Veteran of South African and World War in Charge

Plans to Run Shop on Ocean and Sell Only Real Stuff—Every Cargo Insured

LONDON, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—A business circular is being distributed here in the name of Sir Broderick Hartwell, a veteran of the South African and World wars, inviting investment in the scheme for shipping whiskey abroad. The plan, says the circular, offers "an opportunity of making a 25 per cent profit on the capital every 50 days."

The paper asserts that 5000 cases of whiskey will be shipped within the next four weeks, and that arrangements have been made to transport thereafter 10,000 cases monthly, payment for which is guaranteed on the arrival of the consignment at a point 20 miles from shore. The circular leaves the investor to guess what shore is meant, but the Daily News says it is the American.

"My idea is to run a shop on the ocean," Sir Broderick told the Daily Mail. "I am simply exporting whiskey, having already got people to buy it at a fixed price. Every bottle is guaranteed to be the real stuff. The cost to transport it will be about 15000, so we want to take as much whiskey as possible. The cargo will be no risk of loss."

More than 250 people over 75 years of age are still at work in Hertfordshire.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. Ida Hewitt, 1622 Penna. Ave. S.E., Washington, D.C.

Such letters from women in every part of this country prove beyond question the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BRITISH CABINET TAKES UP REPLIES TO NOTE

LONDON, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—The principal business before the cabinet today was the discussion of the Franco-Belgian communications in reply to Great Britain's reparations note. It was generally agreed in political circles that the ministers were approaching their task with serious anxiety.

The consensus of opinion here is that France is immovable in her position and that she has the support of Belgium as far as passive resistance and the continuation of the Ruhr occupation are concerned. It is understood, however, that the Belgian note expresses a wish for a solution of the tangle and also announced a willingness to agree to the appointment of an expert commission to consider Germany's ability to pay. Belgium is also said to have made certain constructive suggestions which are the subject of considerable speculation.

Important Decision Coming

LONDON, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—An important decision regarding Great Britain's policy toward her French and Belgian allies in the matter of reparations, was expected to be the outcome of a cabinet meeting today.

The cabinet had to decide whether Great Britain would accede to France's request for additional information regarding the British proposals, thereby involving further delays, or whether the British government should assume the responsibility of negotiating directly with Germany without the approval of France or Belgium.

It was pointed out in British official circles that the German government was finding itself surrounded by ever-growing difficulties, and that it was possible that before Great Britain, France and Belgium could agree on a uniform policy, the Cuno government might fall.

HARDING'S ILLNESS HITS STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—Reports that President Harding's condition was grave brought a heavy volume of selling orders into today's stock market and caused a break of 1 to 2 points in United States Steel, Studebaker, Baldwin and other speculative leaders. Commission houses reported that much of the liquidation came from small investors who had become frightened at the run for the money in the president's illness.

HEAVY DAMAGE CAUSED BY FLOOD IN OHIO

BALTIMORE, July 31.—After causing exceedingly heavy damage to property the flood which swept the counties west and northwest of Baltimore reached its crest early today, and slowly started to recede.

The flood was caused by cloudbursts and a series of thunder storms, causing the Patuxent river to overflow its banks late yesterday carrying bridges and buildings before it and driving hundreds of families from their homes. Rescue parties fought through the darkness and rising waters to save families whose homes were marooned. Town after town was thrown into darkness making work by rescue parties very difficult.

In addition to the families that were forced to abandon their homes, others who sought refuge on upper floors had to be rescued by firemen. Farms and livestock were swept away in the swiftly flowing current. Mills and power plants were flooded and their machinery wrecked. Whole sections of railroad tracks were torn up and whirled away.

About twice as much power is required to stop an express train as is necessary to start one.

Largest stadium the world has ever seen was in ancient Athens; it could hold 250,000 people.

30 IS MAGICAL AGE

Life Insurance Company in
Interesting Report Says Slim
People Live Longest

NEW YORK, July 31.—Thirty is the magical age in the health development of the metropolitan area. At 30 he is supposed more nearly to approach the normal. Under 20 he may well weigh a number of pounds above the average called for in the standard height, weight and age tables, but after 20 the longest life span prevails among those whose weights are uniformly below the average, according to figures compiled by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in this city, and given out by the American Club Health association.

The association asks everyone to keep track of his or her weight, and to remedy any excess by diet and right living.

In a statement accompanying the figures Dr. Louis T. Dublin, of the insurance company, who compiled them, says:

"After 30, people who weigh less than the average have a better chance for long life, the records of the insurance companies show. After this age it is a decided advantage to be slight and a serious handicap to gain materially in weight, provided, of course, that the light weight is not the result of a sudden loss in weight which may be the result of organic disease."

"But the weight tables posted on public scales," he continues, "should not be taken too literally. Young persons may well weigh a number of pounds above the average called for by the tables. An excess of 10 pounds is associated with the most favorable conditions among people between 20 and 25 years old."

"The public should realize these facts and accommodate their habits of diet and exercises to them. In America we eat too much and too well. The oriental coolie and the European peasant do an enormous amount of physical work on meagre diets. No one advocates a return to primitive conditions or to lower standards of living, but it would be well for us to keep in mind the exact requirements of the adult body. We should recognize that when we have grown up we no longer need food for growth, and that for the placement of burned up tissues we need only about 2500 calories a day. This is equivalent to two very light meals and one hearty meal a day. Let me illustrate with a menu for an entire day for an active adult which will contain the required 2500 calories. For breakfast he may have a small average serving of cooked fruit or an apple or an orange, a serving of cereal, a slice of bread or one muffin with butter, a cup of coffee with sugar and cream. This will contain about 600 calories. The luncheon may consist of a salad, bread and butter, a choice of coffee, tea or cocoa, with sugar and cream and a dessert. This will account for 650 calories. The dinner may consist of a soup, an average serving of meat, potato, two green vegetables, bread and butter and dessert. If average portions are served, a total of about 1200 calories will be included. This would make the total for the day approximately 2500 calories."

"If more people checked their diet to the reasonable limits of their body requirements, there would be a great improvement in the general health of the nation."

Thomas Bently, and his son, Tom S. Bently, of Spring Park avenue, Dracut, have completed the invention of a piece of machinery known as the Universal Stop Motion. This device prevents making singles, doubles and lugs in the spinning of yarn in preparation for the loom. It runs from the floor up to the top of the machine and is so constructed that when the rocker of the machine stops, the belt stops also. This new invention may be adjusted to all types of machines. The Bently Stop Motion company has invented several types of stop motion for spinning frames, looms etc., in the past, and has received a number of orders for its new invention from some of the larger mills.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

RIALTO THEATRE

In keeping with all accounts and traditions of splendor and magnificence attending the arrival of the Queen of Sheba at the court of King Solomon, more than three thousand years ago, is the spectacular photodrama "Queen of Sheba" which is now playing at the Rialto theatre.

There is scene after scene of great beauty in "Queen of Sheba"—the marriage festival at the court of King Armod, the arrival at King Solomon's court, the day of races and games, including the chariot race between the Queen of Sheba and the Princess Vashiti, the arrival of David, son of Solomon, the little prince of Sheba; the battle between the forces of Solomon and Adoniah, and the pathetic final departure of the Queen of Sheba to her own realm.

Betty Blythe is a voluptuously royal and beautiful Queen of Sheba, and enacts the exacting role impressively well. The supporting cast includes Fritz Leiber, the noted Shakespearean actor, in an effective Solomon; Nell Graig is the Princess Vashiti; George Seligman is King

The chariot race in its thrilling realism came as a distinct surprise, bringing audible expressions of excitement and admiration from the audience.

All in all, it must be said that "Queen of Sheba" is unsurpassed. As a photoplay presenting a great love story with its utmost power of appeal, it is a dramatic triumph of the Rialto. William Fox, J. Gordon Edwards, the director, and all others who had the privilege of taking part in the production of "Queen of Sheba" or presenting to motion picture patrons, are entitled to hearty congratulations. "Queen of Sheba" will be remembered long after most of the screen specials of the season are forgotten.

Other pictures on the bill include "Thunderbolt Jack," a Mack Sennett comedy, a Burton Holmes Travelogue and a Pathe News.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Walter Hiers, perhaps the greatest light comedian in the realm of the silent drama, is providing rounds of laughter at the Merrimack Square theatre the first three days of the week in his latest screen production, "Sixty Cents an Hour."

In this story, the star is seen with beautiful Jacqueline Logan, who supports him in an admirable manner as the daughter of the bank president in the typical western town of Zerkow, Cal. Hiers portrays the role of Jimmy Kirk, a soda "jerker" in the town's ice cream emporium, at a salary of $1.00 per week. Being of an ambitious nature Jimmy decides to become rich and secures a lease on a four-foot frontage between his place of employment and the Smith national bank, which he takes a 25-year lease at $20 per month.

Zerkow, Cal., is a growing town and as such is infested with real estate agents, one of whom takes great delight in "kidding" the dispenser of sodas. The agent is also extremely interested in the bank president's daughter, but is outwitted by the clever Jimmy in his fight for her hand. Eventually he throws up his job in the drug store and accepts a position as night watchman in the bank. One night, while asleep, the bank is robbed and through unavoidable circumstances, Jimmy is accused of the theft.

When the robbery is discovered he is riding with the president's daughter on a silver which he hired in Los Angeles for sixty cents an hour. It happens that the machine he borrowed was the one used by the robbers in the attack on the bank's safe and the loot is hidden in the compartment in the rear. Jimmy does not discover this until he meets with an accident and goes to the rear to look for a tool. Then he discovers the many bags of gold and decides to marry the girl of his love. She objects but is forcefully reconciled to her fate and later succumbs to the wiles of Cupid, and the couple are happily married.

In the meantime a reward is offered for the capture of the burglars. Jimmy gets the reward as he overcame the culprits on a lonely road and took them to the police station. Besides the reward Jimmy also claims a large sum from the bank because of the fact that the big building projects on his four-foot frontage contrary to the terms of the lease.

The other features on the program include an all-star cast in Kate Douglas Wiggin's story, "Timothy's Quest" and Buster Keaton in "The Balloonatic."

THE STRAND THEATRE

"Mighty Lak a Horse," Edwin Charney's latest creation, is the headliner at the Strand the first half of the week. It is a story contrasting the upper and lower levels of life; the sincerity of a blind girl and the evil inclinations of a gang of thieves.

The story opens against the drab background of New York's underworld. Here we meet "Bull" Morgan, the leader of a gang of thieves. His companions include Jimmie Harrison, a thief leader, who knows nothing else in contrast to Rose Duncan, a blind girl, who is a violinist. Through a trick of fate she falls into the reach of Morgan who at once sees in her a good foil for his unwhimsical endeavors. Harrison soon falls under the good influence of the girl and the pair fall in love. The other members of the gang fail to be led by the good influence which Rose is casting about her and Jimmie finds a sufficient reason with them. They finally experience an awakening and they decide to revise their habits. Not being able to gather enough money by honest means, that the girl may be operated on and thereby have her sight restored, the young desperado decides to make more "good" Jimmie is chosen to do the trick and is caught and imprisoned.

Later the girl has her sight restored and escapes in a magical way which deserves a bright future. On the night of her expected triumph Jimmie is released from jail and the singing of a once familiar song attracts him to the theatre where she is appearing.

The play then moves along with swift and dramatic impetus, and shows the cast in its best light.

"Money, Money, Money," the newest Katherine McDonald picture is the other attraction on the bill and combines comedy and drama. A comedy and the Weekly complete the program, while the musical numbers by Al Forrest and Leo Betoncourt are always an added feature enjoyed by all.

"Bassinette" is really a word of French origin, meaning a cradle made of wicker.

Nation Unites in Prayer for President Harding's Recovery

COMPLETE REST FOR PRESIDENT

Sick Room on Top Floor of Palace Hotel, Known to Thousands of Visitors

Though Stone's Throw Off Main Street it Is So Sheltered as to Insure Quietness

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—President Harding's sick room, scene of the fight on which all eyes in America were turned today, is a guest room on the top floor of the Palace hotel, known to thousands of San Francisco visitors. It looks from three arched windows over a balcony toward the hills of western and northern San Francisco and though it is barely a stone's throw off Market street, the city's chief thoroughfare, is so sheltered in a quiet side street and so far above the pavement as to be little disturbed by the noise of traffic below.

On either side of it are the rooms assigned to Mrs. Harding and the living room of the presidential suite. Across the hall from it are the quarters of the president's personal staff. Beyond Mrs. Harding's room is the room of the president's personal physician, Brig. Gen. Sawyer, while beyond the living room and around the corner of the hotel and fronting on Market street, is the dining room of the suite, and behind this is a kitchen.

Beneath the presidential rooms, on the seventh floor, are the suites of the cabinet officers, who are members of the presidential party.

The appointments of the suite throughout are such that, according to Brig. Gen. Sawyer, the possibility of moving the president to a hospital for treatment, need not even be considered.

"We are as well equipped to take care of Mr. Harding here, right here in this hotel, in this city, as we would be anywhere in the world," said Gen. Sawyer.

greatest battle of his career—a struggle in which his life is at stake. Arrived against him are bronchopneumonia, symptoms of which were discovered by the attending physicians late last night, and also the danger of other complications. Arrived in his favor are his calm determination, a subsidence of the earlier abdominal trouble, and the hopes and prayers of a nation. His handicap is an admittedly weakened physical resistance.

PRESIDENT URGED TO CALL EXTRA SESSION

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 31.—President Harding was urged to call an extra session of congress without delay to deal with agricultural problems affecting the nation, at a conference of four northwestern senators here yesterday.

The session was attended by Senators Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa; Lynn J. Frazier, of North Dakota; and Senator-elect Magnus Johnson and Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota.

The telegram, signed by each of the senators was sent to the president at San Francisco, with the request that it be "delivered when the president's health permits."

At set forth the condition of agriculture threatens a national calamity and that only an extraordinary session of congress can avert the calamity.

GAME POSTPONED

came from the sick room during the early hours today, it having been agreed after a bulletin was issued at 9:15 o'clock last night that no additional formal statement would be made until about 8 o'clock this morning unless there occurred a decided change, one way or the other. So, to those who wait, no news is considered good news.

The 9:15 bulletin, issued after a consultation of the five physicians attending the president, contained the first announcement that bronchopneumonia had developed in the right lung, although a statement given out four hours previously had spoken of "evidence of some congestion in one lung." It also conveyed the first authoritative information that his condition had turned from "serious" to "grave."

Temperature Stays at 101

The bulletin also contained rays of hope, for it said that "nourishment is being taken regularly and the abdominal symptoms are less noticeable," and that the chief executive was "temperamentally well adapted to make a strong fight against the infection."

Another favorable statement was that his temperature was remaining constant at 101 degrees, even though his pulse continued at about 125 as compared with his normal of 80 and his respiration was about 44.

The bronchopneumonia symptoms, described in the bulletin as "definite central patches" were discovered both clinically and by the X-ray which was used yesterday afternoon and continued to be used during the night.

All of the physicians who have been called in spent the night with easy reach of the executive's bedside and Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, his personal physician, and Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone, assistant to Gen. Sawyer, were in the sick room nearly all the time.

Dr. Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, who has participated in all consultations, visited the president's room from time to time. Dr. Work, who from the first has been most calm, appeared perturbed for the first

SOVIET THREATENS TO SEIZE SHIP

NOME, Alaska, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—Harold Noyce, head of the expedition to Wrangell island for the relief of Alan Crawford and his party, marooned there since 1920, has been advised of an announcement by the soviet authorities at East Cape, Siberia, that unless his ship, the Donaldson, called at Petropavlovsk, Kamchatka, for proper clearance and also at East Cape for a contingent of Red Guards to be taken to the island, the vessel will be confiscated.

LEAVES BUSINESS TO HIS EMPLOYEES

SPRINGFIELD, July 31. The will of Newell C. Mansur of Holyoke, filed today, which disposed of an estate estimated at $200,000, provides that a dozen of his old employees shall take over and continue his printing business for the incorporation of which $100,000 is set aside in the will. The will also provides a fund of $5000 for the benefit of the Holyoke Day nursery.

RUSHED THROUGH HIS SPEECH AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Wash., July 31.—Followers of President Harding's Seattle speech Friday noticed he was apparently hurrying through his prepared address. Frequently the president rushed by periods, when brief pauses probably would have brought applause from the large gathering.

In spite of the illness from which he was suffering, the president arranged, immediately after his illness, to make the previously cancelled trip to the children's orthopedic hospital. During the long drive up Queen Anne hill, however, it was noticed Mrs. Harding was doing most of the honors in greeting the knots of people gathered at every corner along the route, which waved at and cheered the presidential party. At the hospital, President Harding did not leave the car, but, after a brief stop, stepped on toward the Press club.

Mrs. Harding, the audience at the stadium noticed, was watching the president closely during his address. Her concern at the time was set down to interest in the manner in which the vast crowd would receive the critical address on an Alaskan problem.

time when at 9 o'clock last night he announced that a bulletin soon would be forthcoming.

Mrs. Harding at Bedside

None was more faithful at the president's bedside than Mrs. Harding, who since the executive was brought here Sunday morning, has obtained little sleep or rest. General Sawyer said that Mrs. Harding was standing by the bed, adding that she was of the type "who is best under fire."

Presumably, he said, to give the American people all the facts in the case of the president, General Sawyer last night had a long talk with newspapermen, discussing the condition of the executive in non-technical language and answering all questions.

In his talk, Gen. Sawyer said a fight was on between the attacking forces as represented in the bulletin as pneumonia, and the president's physical resistance, weakened by nearly 40 days and approximately 7500 miles of traveling. The physician then added gravely:

"We are running with a very handicapped machine."

Sleep Aids in Fight

The problem faced is to strengthen and repair the machine, or physique so as to combat the attacks, Dr. Sawyer further explained.

Some aid to this end was afforded during the hours of the night immediately after midnight, when the president fell asleep. Everything possible conducive to sleep was done. Nothing could have been more likely to bring sleep to a sick man than the scene which presented itself at 1 o'clock this morning.

The corridor outside the president's

CARD. O'CONNELL SENDS TELEGRAM TO MRS. HARDING

BOSTON, July 31.—Cardinal O'Connell today sent the following telegram to Mrs. Harding:

"We are all deeply grieved because of the illness of our beloved president, and our priests and religious and the children of our schools are offering their prayers for his speedy recovery. We are also praying God to give you strength to bear your burden cheerfully, which we trust Providence will soon lighten."

Signed,
"CARDINAL O'CONNELL."

del suite was unoccupied, except for one secret service man, who sat at the far end and two others who guarded the approach to it. The only stir within half an hour occurred when Mr. Harding's valet crossed the corridor to another room and returned with some blankets, presumably for use of one of the physicians who wanted to get a few minutes' sleep.

Newspapermen waited at a respectful distance down another corridor and while stood guard at stairway entrances on the floor beneath, to prevent use of the stairs by all except a few authorized persons.

Partisanship Forgotten

Even the steady stream of telegrams, expressing solicitude and hope for the executive's speedy recovery, was temporarily shut off after a day in which the messages piled high on a desk in the secretary's office. These telegrams had been opened and read as soon as received, and although none was made public, it was said they came from every state in the Union and from every foreign country. Partisanship was forgotten and the names signed on the messages included leaders in the Democratic as well as the Republican party.

Airplanes Over City Banned

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—No airplanes will be permitted to fly over San Francisco while President Harding remains here.

An order prohibiting private planes from passing over the city was issued today by Police Chief O'Brien as a result of a conference last night, with secret service officers here with the president and army, navy and postal airplanes are confined by regulations to certain definite sections on the water front or near the landing fields on the outskirts of the metropolitan area.

Bryan Hopes For Recovery

MIAMI, Fla., July 31.—William Jennings Bryan last night expressed a wish that President Harding's illness

7500-MILE TRIP WORE DOWN PRESIDENT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Here is the record of work performed and difficulties undergone which wore down President Harding's physical condition, so that what was believed at first to be but a mild case of pyramine poisoning, developed into serious illness:

Covered by train, steamship and automobile approximately 7500 miles. Delivered 40 speeches, of which 13 were set addresses at night before large crowds, and represented careful and laborious preparation before hand. Exposed himself to all sorts of weather and arduous conditions to address eager crowds from rear platform of his special train.

Members of the presidential party declared that the making of some of these platform speeches because of conditions encountered, was almost as wearing as the preparation and delivery of the set addresses.

In 39 days, slept only three nights, gave luncheon, and during that time outside his private car or off his ship, he informed me that he was suffering. Maintained almost constant touch with his office in Washington, and on board at Alaska, said the mayor while traversing Alaskan waters on his ship, and transacted much official business by telegraph, wireless and the mails.

Omitted his usual daily periods of exercise and recreation.

would not prove serious. In a brief statement, he said:

"I am greatly distressed to hear of the president's illness and trust that it will not be serious. The country will anxiously watch for the bulletin with a very earnest wish for his rapid recovery."

Daughter Rushes to Frisco

SEATTLE, Wash., July 31.—Hastening to President Harding's bedside, Mrs. Daugherty, wife of the attorney general, passed through this city last night on his way to San Francisco from Vancouver, B. C.

Mr. Daugherty arrived on the steamer Princess Charlotte and early asked for news of the president as he hurried in a taxicab to the railroad station.

From the station he telephoned to the president's headquarters in San Francisco. He ignored letters and telegrams awaiting him at a hotel here.

Sen. Reed Expresses Regret

SANTA ANA, Cal., July 31.—James A. Reed, democratic senator from Missouri, last night, expressed regret for the illness of President Harding and expressed the hope that the crisis would be passed quickly and successfully with respect. "The Daily Chronicle" in an editorial expresses the hope that there will soon be better news from San Francisco, adding:

"The office the president holds assures him the sincere interest and respect of the British public. They respect him as the chosen head of the largest community in the world which speaks our own language."

Was Ill at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 31.—While he was coming going through the elaborate program prepared for his reception here Thursday, President Harding was suffering from the ill-effects of Alaskan crab, which he had eaten.

DR. HUBERT WORK, Secretary of Interior, Called in Consultation.

was the statement made by Mayor Tisdell, last night.

"I sat next to the president at the White House, and during that time he informed me that he was suffering from what he thought was indigestion from eating crab meat taken on board at Alaska," said the mayor. "I am sorry that it has turned out to be even more serious and, with all Canadians, I wish President Harding a speedy recovery."

Mayor Tisdell also commented on the anxious manner in which the president went through with his reception arrangements here, although "he must have been feeling far from well."

Gen. Pershing Shocked

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—General John J. Pershing, who is touring the citizens' military training camps in the country, just before leaving Los Angeles for San Diego, early today, said he was "extremely grieved and shocked to learn of the serious turn which the illness of President Harding has taken."

"He is my close friend and very much beloved," said General Pershing. "The nation will surely be in suspense until he is out of danger. The only thing for Americans to do in this anxious hour is to hope and pray for his speedy recovery."

London Expresses Sympathy

LONDON, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Harding's illness is attracting sympathetic interest here and reports of his condition are displayed prominently on the newspapers. The press also prints his portrait.

Although Mr. Harding is unknown here personally, his record is familiar to the British public, through the newspapers and he is always referred to with respect. "The Daily Chronicle" in an editorial expresses the hope that there will soon be better news from San Francisco, adding:

"The office the president holds assures him the sincere interest and respect of the British public. They respect him as the chosen head of the largest community in the world which speaks our own language."

AIR OF SORROW AND ANXIETY

Expressions of Regret Manifested From Highest to Lowest at Washington

Harding's Warm-heartedness and Human Kindness Made Friends Everywhere

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Awakened to a realization of the seriousness of President Harding's illness, the national capital went about its business today with a manifest air of sorrow and anxiety. From the highest and the lowest in the government service, there were expressions of regret, for during his two years and a half in the White House, Mr. Harding has made contact with many hundreds of those with whom he publicly has classed himself as a "worker for the government," and his warm-heartedness, human kindness have made friends for him everywhere.

Only two cabinet members, Secretary Hughes and Postmaster General New are in Washington and both of them requested that the latest advice to come from San Francisco over the wire of the Associated Press be telephoned directly to their offices. Most of the members of the supreme court and of congress likewise are away from the capital but those remaining kept in constant touch with the latest developments at the president's bedside.

Sen. Davis Wires Sympathy

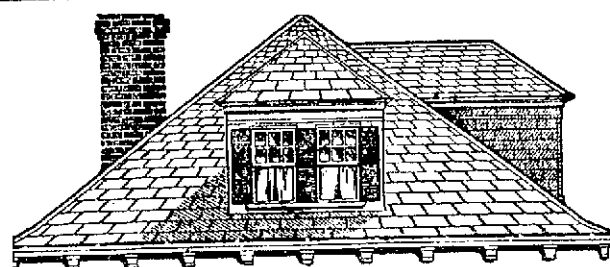

LONDON, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—James J. Davis, American secretary of labor, sent a cable message to Brig. Gen. Sawyer, President Harding's personal physician, expressing the secretary's sympathy for the president and asking to be kept informed of his condition. Unless the president improves meanwhile, Secretary Davis plans to sail for New York tomorrow instead of Aug. 7, as he had originally intended.

Dr. Harding Notified

MARTIN, Ohio, July 31.—The only direct word from Dr. R. T. Harding, father of the president, was a telegram late last night from Mrs. Harding, stating that pneumonia had set in. Dr. Harding said that he did not expect to go to San Francisco, as the distance was too far and the trip too much for a man of his age.

The doctor earnestly scanned newspapers and waited with anxiety for "copy" from the news services telling about his son.

Harding's concern epitomized the feeling of Marion citizens. There was a subdued air in the streets and a prevailing tenseness.

Why Crowds are Dangerous

ON the street—in school—in public places—your children come face-to-face with disease. The grime they collect on face and hands is mute evidence of countless dangerous contacts.

That grime is not "clean dirt"—but a product of city congestion—containing millions of invisible enemies to health.

What Mothers Must Do

You cannot keep children from this ever-present disease-dirt. But you mothers, the "Health Doctors," can and should do everything possible to prevent its deadly effects. All the health authorities in America ask your co-operation.

Make sure that your children are really clean when they wash themselves. Ordinary cleanliness is not enough. They need the rich purifying lather of Lifebuoy with its unique

Why Lifebuoy Leads

But the real reason why Lifebuoy is now probably the widest selling toilet soap in the world is that millions of mothers have proved it to be the health soap. Rely on Lifebuoy. Put a cake of Lifebuoy at every place in the house where there is running water. Lifebuoy protects health. Lever Bros Co., Cambridge, Mass.

LINCOLNS DEFEAT INDEPENDENTS IN JOHNNY AVILA WINS HARD FOUGHT GAME, 3 TO 2 OVER KING ON FOUL

Dillon, New Catcher, Scores Winning Run for Lincolns in Last of the Seventh—Garrity and Mullen in Fine Pitchers' Battle—Brilliant Fielding Stunts by Larry Condon and Craig—New Team Makes Good Impression

TWILIGHT LEAGUE STANDING

Team	Won	Lost	Ave.
Bellevue	2	1	.667
Lincolns	2	1	.667
Americans	1	2	.333
Independents	1	2	.333

Harold Dillon signalled his appearance in the Lincoln's lineup on the South common last night by catching a splendid game and coming through in the final inning with the run that enabled his team to break the tie score and win over the Independents by the score of 3 to 2. The victory moved the Lincolns into the second place in the Twilight League pennant race.

A Pitchers' Battle
The game was hard fought and was anybody's contest until Dillon appeared in the heroic role in the last half of the seventh inning. It was a pitchers' battle between "Frank" Garrity for the Lincolns and "Mule" Mullen for the Independents. Both pitched classy ball, particularly in the pinches and but for errors of commission and omission in the field, the score would have been smaller. Several drives that should have been converted into outs went for hits because of slow fielding, while a few others put men on the bases that clean fielding would have retired to the bench.

The Independents outbatted the Lincolns seven to six, but Garrity kept his opponents' hits scattered and scored several runs by some superb fielding. "Frank" struck out nine of the visitors, walked one, and came through himself with the first run of the game. Mullen fanned five and is the game's only pitcher. The latter who is a younger twirler a masterly game, and according to his own admission, he has several chances to win the game, by their inability to bunch their hits, as they had nine men left on the bases. The Lincolns had but five stranded on the path.

Independents Make Good
The game marked the debut of the Independents in the Twilight League and they made a most favorable impression. Being organized and assembled since Friday night when they were elected to the league, the new team had little or no time to practice, but despite this fact, they gave an excellent account of themselves and presented indications that once they get into the swing of the game they will prove a formidable combination.

Ennis and McNulty of Bellevue appeared in the Independents' lineup and both showed up in the field. Ennis, a third baseman, while he had no chance to display his ability in the field, he came through with a fine play in the fourth inning. McNulty, a first baseman, came through with three hits, one a two-bagger. McNulty put up a fine game at first, and also turned in a brace of hits. O'Brien pitched while Craig in left field pulled a spectacular catch on a fly from Daley's bat in the fifth.

Several Classy Plays
The battery work of Garrity and Dillon coupled with their timely hitting, the hitting and fielding of Wallace, Scholten, and Mullen, and the superb play of the Lincolns' endeavor in the fourth inning with a man on first, Freddy Scholten cracked a three-run drive over third that put the Lincolns in the lead. However, leaped at the ball and speared it. The horsehide was traveling at such a terrific force that it threw Condon to the ground, but he managed to get the ball. Condon, who was in the fifth, with the bases full, Condon came bearing in toward the plate and nabbed a fly from Scholten's bat that required the slide. Two nifty pieces of work.

Lincolns Get the Jump
The first run of the game came in the last of the fourth when the Lincolns pushed one man across the plate. Garrity, first up, slashed a double to left. Condon went on strikes. Daley then came up and hit a single. Wallace came through with a single and Garrity with a great burst of speed went all the way home on the drive. Wallace, however, leaped at the ball and speared it. The horsehide was traveling at such a terrific force that it threw Condon to the ground, but he managed to get the ball. Condon, who was in the fifth, with the bases full, Condon came bearing in toward the plate and nabbed a fly from Scholten's bat that required the slide. Two nifty pieces of work.

AMATEUR BASEBALL
The Aiken A. C. won a forfeited game from the Lincolns last night when the latter team did not show up for its scheduled game. The Aiken now challenge the Buffaloes. Manager Prudhomme can be reached at 242 Allen street any evening between 8 and 10 o'clock.

CLIFFORD HAPPENNY
and Baseman J. Clifford Happenny, 22 summers old, fresh from the University of Illinois.

The message asked "Hap" if he would report forthwith at Charley Comiskey's park in Chicago. The dressing room was snug. An Al Star had a chance to try out in the uniforms. The boys all swarmed around their second sacker. There was much hand shaking and back slapping.

"Well I guess Henson wants me to play second for him," Happenny told them. "I'll take Eddie Collins' place." An injury, you will remember, had forced Collins out of the game.

That night Clifford packed up and entrained for the Windy City. A few days more and Henson had his John Henry on a contract.

Right away, Happenny jumped into Collins' shoes, covering himself with glory until Eddie returned. Sometimes he's on the bench, sometimes he's in the lineup. Matters not where he's stationed.

R. OF C. OUTING

No wonder they call him "Iron Man." Joe McGinnity of New York Giants' fame still takes his regular turn on the mound with the Dubuque (Ia.) team in the Mississippi Valley League. What if he is 54 years old! He knows how to fan 'em, all right. Joe is managing the outfit. He expects to keep on playing ball for years and years yet.

FORMER TEXTILE PLAYER PSYCHOLOGY IMPORTANT IN ALL SPORTS

By NEA Service
LYNN, Mass., July 31.—A messenger boy ambled into the Cornet All Stars' dressing room one late June day. He carried a telegram for one of the players. That, in itself, was amazing. Nobody, except the manager or secretary, ever received wires at the park.

But more exciting still, it was from a big league player—"Kiki" Gleason of the White Sox. It was addressed to Fackey.

Richards has beaten several players who have won over Johnston their credit, yet Johnston remains the big enigma of tennis as far as Richards is concerned.

It took Bobby Jones a long time to achieve a championship in golf. Time after time Jones has been favored to win, would run true to form up to the stretch, only to falter or have the breaks go against him.

Jones, however, had the courage and simply refused to be denied. In nearly every big golf tournament a certain hole spoils the chances of this or that player. With one player it may be the third, another the seventh, while the ninth hole may be equally fatal to others.

If a player in his first round takes a six or seven on a par four hole, it is almost a certainty that he will be beaten by a hole in one. Each of his four rounds of 72-hole competition. That particular hole got his "goat."

Same True on Diamond
The records of the national open reveal some decidedly unusual dope on the part psychology plays in golf. Even the skilled pro, hardened to the strict sort of competition, often falters under the strain of playing a certain hole that appears to be his jinx.

In many cases players have taken from eight to ten strokes over par on a certain hole in four rounds. Only to discover that they have lost the championship by a less number than was wasted on the jinx hole.

Baseball is filled with instances of where psychology has proved to be the deciding issue. This is true because there are more possibilities in baseball than any other sport.

Pitchers constantly resort to "hocus" that they feel is upsetting to the opposition. I know one pitcher who is unusually successful against a certain club, simply because he "hunks" the players.

The pitcher I have in mind is Sam Jones of the New York Yankees. Against a certain club he always carefully examines the ball before each pitch. In some several times over the ball in a rather mysterious manner. Once or twice each inning he will turn his back to the plate and seemingly will be fusing with the ball.

The opposition naturally sets up a howl that Jones is faking the ball. Now, that time again the players will insist that the ball be looked over. The claim is often made that Jones is roughening the ball. An examination always reveals the ball in perfect condition.

This club thinks I am deceiving the ball," explains Jones. "The stuff I am pulling is to keep up that belief. I never do anything but work with the ball, but the opposing players think I am."

As a result they spend more time trying to figure what I am doing than in hitting. That makes them easy for me."

PAT MORAN'S REDS CLOSE IN ON GIANTS BY DOUBLE VICTORY

Defeat Phillies 7 to 5 and 5 to 4, While Giants Split Even With Pittsburgh Pirates—Indians Win Two Games From Red Sox and Gain Half a Game on Yankees

NEW YORK, July 31.—The Reds, St. Louis won the first game, 5 to 2. In playing on their own lot, climbed back to second place in the National League yesterday by defeating Philadelphia in a double header, while the Giants split a twin tussle with Pittsburgh in two close fought games the Clinch. The Reds were expected to come out on top, winning 7 to 5, and 5 to 4. The Giants, playing in Pittsburgh, lost their first game, 5 to 4, but turned the second into an old fashioned batting bee, winning 7 to 2. In the American league the leaders also took a step backward. Although the Yankees won from Chicago, 5 to 3, the Cleveland Indians took a double header away from Boston, and kept the Yankees from coming back in the way through. It turned out to be an half a game. They won 5 to 1, and in the two games, six of them contributed by Cleveland. In Philadelphia, McManus pounded out two home runs for the first time in four runs. Severed also hit a four bagger, and St. Louis won the first game, 5 to 2. In the second game, the Reds won, 5 to 4. The Indians downed the Cardinals in St. Louis, 5 to 3, with Tom Griffith doing the star stickwork. He lined out four hits, and two of them, one a home run, accounted for four runs. Hornsby also completed the circuit without stopping for breath. The Braves just squeezed out ahead of the Cubs in Chicago, winning 5 to 3. The home team counted four runs in the seventh. Ford made a homer. In the nation's capital the Senators won the first game, 5 to 1. The Detroit team made one run in the first inning, and held just that one all the way through. It turned out to be enough, however, as the Detroiters themselves around. Walter Johnson was the winning pitcher. The second game of a scheduled double header was called off because of rain.

Kinks-o the Links

Where did Bobby Jones finish in the national open last year and what was his score?

Jones finished in a tie for second place last year at Skeikie with a score of 289. The veteran pro, John Black, shared the position with the youthful amateur, Sarazen won with a score of 285, so that Jones and Black were just a stroke removed from the title in 1922.

Smith's caddy, on all the greens in a match with Jones, indicated the line of Smith's putt with a club and held the club in position while Smith putted. The club held by Smith's caddy did not touch the ground but unquestionably was of great aid to Smith in his putting. Was Smith within his rights in having his caddy indicate the line of putt?

Smith was in error and should suffer a two-stroke penalty for each intention. It is simply permissible to point out the direction for putting before the stroke is made. This disputed point is covered by section 1 of rule 29.

A is playing B and giving him one stroke. They both score a five on a certain hole in which A had the honor. Since each scored a five does A retain the honor at the next tee?

Although each made a five on the hole, B was the hole since A was giving him a one-stroke handicap. That of course entitles B to the honor on the next tee.

Is there a penalty if a player's ball strikes a flag which has been put in a hole to remain in the hole? There is no penalty if a player's ball strikes the flag stick while it is in the hole, regardless of the distance the ball is played from.

Both are essentially the same type of fighter. A rushing attack that crushes everything in its way; a terrific punch that batter down everything that opposes it; a natural fighting instinct that takes the place of a gymnasium taught skill.

The claim is often made that Jones is roughening the ball. An examination always reveals the ball in perfect condition. This club thinks I am deceiving the ball," explains Jones. "The stuff I am pulling is to keep up that belief. I never do anything but work with the ball, but the opposing players think I am."

At the Ladies Aid Meeting Yesterday

Mapl-Flake was the big subject of conversation. Mrs. Brown said:

"The thing I like about it is that there is enough bran in the whole wheat to keep my family regulated, and they don't even know they are eating bran."

In addition to the bran in Mapl-Flake, it is a perfectly balanced food, rich in phosphorus and lime for making brain, nerve and bone; in iron for making good red blood, and in the life-giving vitamins so necessary to good health.

Good for Children

Mapl-Flake is selected whole wheat, sweetened, flaked, and toasted to a delicious brown. It is so appetizing and tasty that you would never guess it is 25% bran—enough to be a harmless, natural, non-habit-forming laxative. Be a "Mapl-Flaker"—it's the food that keeps you "right."

Dog Weeps Sadly, Refuses to Eat While Master Is in Jail

PORTLAND, Ore., July 31.—Jiggs, like many men and women, had but one real friend in the world. And to him Jiggs clung with a tenacity that surprised even his bulldog nature.

"Bulldog nature" is no metaphor. Jiggs is a bulldog. An English bull, well formed, thoroughbred. And his one friend was "Bluebeard" McPool, a big, gaunt old man, grim and taciturn.

McPool, so the courts said, made bootleg whiskey, and sold it. He was thrown into jail. And Jiggs, dimly understanding that disaster rapidly was overtaking him, was led away to the lunatic asylum.

McPool didn't come that first night to feed him. And Jiggs wondered. He didn't eat what the kind officials of the society put before him. He wanted only the one person in all the world he knew was his friend.

For 16 days this continued. Jiggs refused to eat. A dull, melancholy, sinking sensation seized him. He suffered what so many humans suffer when they are inwardly hurt and have no loved one to give them comfort.

On the sixteenth day the society could stand it no longer. Jiggs' aspect sorrow struck the minor scales of their heartstrings. They took the dog, now a bag of skin and bones, to call on McPool at the jail.

Jiggs saw his friend, and crept across the concrete floor. He snuggled into McPool's arms. And he cried.

Jiggs shed real tears—and so did McPool, and others who stood about, not wanting to see, but fascinated by the sight of a dog weeping.

They brought Jiggs food, and he gulped it down. The time to go came, and Jiggs had to be forced away from his loved one. But the dog will be taken into the home of an official of the Humane society, and every few days will be allowed to visit McPool, who must serve at least 90 days and then work out a fine of $500, which may keep him in the better part of a year.

Which is being punished more—McPool or his best friend, Jiggs?

Admits Breaking and Entering Various Yachts and Boathouses Along Shore

SALEM, July 31.—Howard Ellis Smith of Schoenectady, N. Y., who was arrested last night by the Manchester, Mass., police on a charge of breaking and entering various yachts and boathouses along the north shore, pleaded guilty to seven counts for such offenses at district court this morning and was held for the grand jury, bail being set at $8000, which he was unable to furnish. Smith, according to his confession, had a rendezvous on Kettle Island, off Manchester, at which place all the boats were taken. He had no room in his boarding house on Lynde street, in this city.

CLASS REUNION IN CHELMSFORD

For the first time in 25 years the members of the class of 1894, of the Chelmsford high school, with their teacher, Miss Susan M. Emerson, were with one exception, present together last evening. Old times, good, but unidentifiable, were recalled by "do you remember," the slogan of the evening. In order to make the reunion more like former days, the class met in former classroom at 7 o'clock with Miss Emerson at the desk. At 8 o'clock, the members with their husbands and wives assembled in the Unitarian society where a banquet was served. During the course of the spread, members spoke of past and present happenings, and some told of their accomplishments since '94. Miss Emerson was presented a gold pencil and leather covered note book during the evening. There were ten members of the class of 1894, five girls and five boys, all but one, Harry Dutton of Boston, being present. Those making up the class were as follows: Edward J. Robbins, who was class president; Edwin L. Stearns, William H. Fulton, Ralph W. Emerson, Harry Dutton, Misses Alice Stearns, Edna R. Parkhurst, Agnes S. Court, Jessie H. Wiggin and Mabel P. Emerson.

OPEN CAMP FOR WORKING GIRLS

The Y. W. C. A. camp at Long-Sought-For camp has thrown open its doors to the business and working girls who wish to spend the month of August at the camp. Already applications have been filed by those who desire to camp there during their vacation, and there are no vacancies at present. Those wishing to go to the camp later in the month, may apply to Miss Maertens who has charge of the camp for the month of August. Miss Clara Watson of Hale street is the nurse in attendance at the camp this month.

The same program which was carried out by the grade school girls during the past month, will be scheduled for the month of August, and a pleasant time is assured those who camp at the pond.

Miss Shirley, who had charge of the camp during the month of July, together with Miss Fern Graden of the International Institute are leaving for an automobile trip to South Carolina, Miss Shirley's home. Miss Graden will stop at North Carolina.

Miss Baker is at Carry Pond, Me., for the month of August.

Miss Smith, who has been visiting in Maine and Miss Maertens, who was spending her vacation in Gloucester, are returning home this evening.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE MEETING TONIGHT

The first get-together of the special committee appointed by Council President James J. Gallagher on motion of Councilor James Cosgrove for the purpose of making an investigation of the assessing department is called for tonight, with the members of the assessing board meeting in conference with them. The committee members are Councilors Cosgrove, Arthur Genest and John J. McPadden.

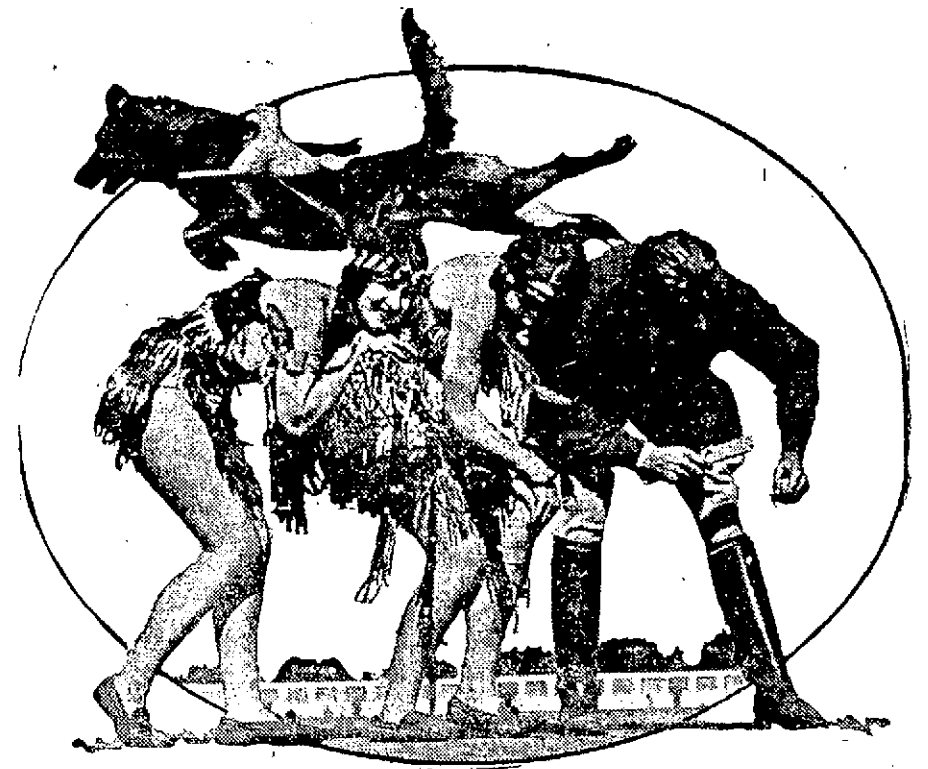

The committee hopes to be able to work with the assessors along many lines beneficial alike to property owners and rent payers.

SUMMARY OF EARLY MORNING A. P. NEWS

Cloudbursts sweep western Maryland counties making the Patuxent river overflow and causing damage that may reach millions.

Net reduction of $161,894,387 in government receipts during the next fiscal year is predicted by Herbert M. Lord, director of the budget, in report to President Harding.

Pope Pius and King Victor Emmanuel express deep concern over illness of President Harding.

French and Belgian ambassadors hand to Lord Curzon the replies of their governments to British reparations note.

Potatoes and fats may determine Cuno ministry's further tenure of office: If government can get the needed funds, crisis will be temporarily solved, Berlin advisers declare.

Turco-American negotiations take another unfavorable twist and Washington must decide if a convention is to be signed, Lausanne message says.

MEETING OF POSTAL AND BUSINESS MEN

A conference-convention of postal employees and business men will be held in Faneuil hall, Boston, August 3. This affair is an "open forum," held under the auspices of the post-office department, for the purpose of discussing postal problems, and it will be of interest to business men throughout the state who have any difficulty with their mail service or who desire a change in their mail service, to attend. Either the postmaster-general or his first assistant will act as chairman of the meeting and a large attendance is expected.

Postmaster Doherty said today that practically all of the postmasters in this state will attend the convention and a large delegation of postal employees from the larger stations will also be present. He hopes that the business men of the city will send representatives if they cannot be present themselves so that an ample opportunity will be had for discussing the mail service in Lowell.

THE PILL HOLD-UP

THIS actually happened and is a well worth telling.

The drug clerk was just about to close up. It was getting late. The last policeman to rub his nose against the plate glass window, was far down the avenue when the clerk switched off the electric lights and turned the lock. Then it all happened.

A man rushed up to the door. "Say, man, I want a box of Beecham's Pills. Simply must have them!" he exclaimed. "Store's closed for the day," remarked the clerk as he pocketed the key. "Like thunder it is!" shouted the late comer, "I've got to have a box of Beecham's Pills tonight." The altercation grew heated. There was an exchange of blows.

Then the clerk took off his broken glasses, unlocked the door and handed out a 50 cent box of Beecham's Pills.

Can you beat it?

Beecham's Pills are so pleasantly effective in making sick stomachs well, sluggish livers active, and lazy bowels to function as they should, that Beecham's steady friends and supporters sometimes overflow with strenuous enthusiasm.

SEN. BROOKHART TAKES SEPARATE TRIALS FOR ISSUE WITH MEREDITH GARRETT BROTHERS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 30.—Senator S. W. Brookhart, in an interview yesterday, took issue with E. T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture on the agricultural situation, by maintaining that the grain farmer is receiving less today for his crop than any time in history, considering the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar.

He said he agreed with Senator La Follette, who asserted Friday that price fixing is not the remedy for the troubles on the farm. Senator Brookhart took the position that the creation of a government marketing agency does not mean fixing of prices.

Mr. Meredith, in his statement, given to The Associated Press, Saturday, discounted the slump in prices of wheat. He said this was offset by the higher price for oats and other grains. "I want to say," said Senator Brookhart, "that the price situation as respects oats and corn and other grains is just as bad as wheat. Secretary Meredith has given credit to corn. He said that the price of corn is much higher than the price a year ago."

He is referring to 55 cent corn a year ago that is not shrunken. When the new corn comes in it is shrunken and will be worth about 50 cents a bushel. December corn is now selling for about 62 cents a bushel at Chicago, which averages about 52 cents in Iowa. Oats at 27 to 30 cents is worse."

TWO YOUNG MEN LOST ON MT. KATAHDIN

LEWISTON, Me., July 30.—A despatch from Wayne to the Evening Journal says that Alfred T. Merlan, aged 19, son of Alfred Merlan of New York with Gaston Dallendach, about the same age, of Switzerland, is lost on Mount Katahdin, in northern Maine. The father and Dr. Thaddeus Hyatt of New York are now there to take part in the search. With three other young men, Merlan and Dallendach left last Wednesday to climb Katahdin. The last seen of them by their companions was Friday morning, when about a third of the way up the mountain. At that time a heavy fog prevailed and it is believed they missed their way in this.

Merlan is a junior at Harvard and his companion is to enter Columbia. A reward of $500 is offered by the father. Game warden and forest fire wardens have been instructed by Governor Baxter to seek the boys. The Merlans have spent the summer here for three seasons. Dallendach was their guest.

RESIGNATION OF CUNO CABINET CERTAIN

LONDON, July 30.—(By the Associated Press.) The Central News correspondent at Berlin has sent the following despatch here:

"Your correspondent learns in well-informed political quarters that the resignation of the Cuno cabinet is certain. Herr Cuno himself is convinced that this step must be taken. It is understood that the leaders of the new cabinet will be Paul Loebe, president of the Reichstag and Dr. Gustave Stresemann, leader of the people's party.

"A definite decision will not be reached before the meeting of the Reichstag before the end of next week."

TAXI DRIVER HURLED TO HIS DEATH

NEWPORT, Vt., July 30.—George Morrell, Newport taxicab driver, was killed instantly last night and four men, passengers, narrowly escaped serious injury when Morrell's automobile swerved from the road between Newport Center and North Troy and struck a pile. Morrell's neck was nearly severed when he was hurled through the windshield. The other occupants of the car sustained severe bruises.

According to the passengers, Morrell lost control of the car in endeavoring to avoid striking a carriage when the automobile entered a freshly gravelled road.

NOT TO PUBLISH TERMS OF LIQUOR PROPOSAL

LONDON, July 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—In the house of commons today, Captain Wedgwood Benn, liberal member for Bath, asked if Prime Minister Baldwin could publish the terms of the proposals made by the United States relative to the right of society (rum runners) beyond the three mile limit.

"I regret to say," replied the premier, "that the United States government has objected to the publication of their proposals at present."

BURGLARS ROB LIGGETT STORE

BOSTON, July 30.—Burglars who entered two stores operated by the Louis K. Liggett Co. last night, forced the safe in one and obtained $1550 but fled from the other after attempting to open the safe door. It was discovered today. Besides taking the money from the store at Washington and Hanover streets, the intruders carried off quantities of fountain pens and razors. In the store on Huntington avenue, they had wrangled the combination knob from the safe when apparently they became alarmed, and fled. Entrance in each case was made by means of a skylight.

FOR FREIGHT RATE REDUCTION ON WHEAT

OMAHA, Neb., July 30.—Executive of western railroad lines are to meet in Chicago today to consider a proposal for a temporary freight emergency 25 per cent freight rate reduction on export wheat and flour advanced by a committee of Omaha business men recently organized to sponsor a buying campaign of these commodities. It was announced today.

CUMBERLAND COURTHOUSE, Vt., July 30.—Larkin C. and Robert O. Garrett, county officials charged with the murder of the Rev. E. S. Pierce, will be tried separately. Judge White of the Cumberland county court having granted today a plea of the state for separation of the cases. Larkin C. Garrett will be tried first.

Efforts by the state's attorney to have the brothers' case heard by a jury from another county failed, the defense objecting and the court upholding its contention.

The Garretts entered pleas of not guilty at the opening of court today. Prospects were that the selection of the jury would not be required until tomorrow. Meanwhile special guards from various Virginia cities patrolled in courthouse area.

FOUR HELD FOR ATTACK ON BROCKTON OFFICER

BROCKTON, July 30.—Albert C. and Arthur G. Olson, both of 361 Hamilton street, Worcester, with Carl T. Young and Carl A. Nelson of this city, were arraigned this morning in district court charged with disturbance and assault on an officer. Patrolman John P. Oswood was their victim, he claims, and showed a badly bruised face in court today. All four pleaded not guilty and had their cases continued. The assault occurred shortly after midnight Sunday morning outside a lunchroom from which the men had been evicted after passing remarks about policemen in general. Patrolman Oswood claims the four jumped on him, took away his club but ran when he pulled a gun.

ORDERS EXTRADITION OF WM. J. CORCORAN

BOSTON, July 30.—Governor Smith of New York today signed papers ordering the extradition of William J. Corcoran, former district attorney of Middlesex county, held in New York on various charges of larceny and blackmail, according to a telegram received by District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien of Suffolk county from Owen L. Potter, executive secretary of the governor. The papers honoring Governor Cox's requisition had been forwarded by mail to the police commissioner of New York, the telegram said.

FIRPO WANTS BOUT WITH DEMPSEY POSTPONED

OMAHA, Neb., July 30.—Luis Angel Firpo of the Argentine, would like to have his championship fight with Jack Dempsey, scheduled for New York Sept. 14, postponed until some time next year, he told a representative of the Omaha World-Herald, following arrival from Chicago to prepare for his 19-round decision match here Friday night, with Homer Smith, of Kalamazoo, Mich.

DISCUSS NEW LAND TAKING

Park Department Seeks Large
Tract Along River From
Locks and Canals

Right of Tenant-at-Will on Property Holds Up Action
on Matter

The park commission met at city hall yesterday afternoon for the purpose of discussing with a representative of the Locks and Canals Co., the acquisition by lease of 40,000 square feet of land along the riverbank in Riverside street for park purposes, but after a considerable exchange of ideas the matter was left in the hands of City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds, with no action taken.

Present at the meeting were Clarence M. Weed, Harvey R. Greene and Thomas F. McKay of the park board; Supt. John W. Korman, Solicitor Reynolds and William X. Goodell, representing the Locks and Canals Co.

The Locks and Canals Co. is perfectly willing to lease the land to the city for park purposes, keeping only a title therein from the standpoint of riparian rights, but feels the city should compensate James H. Pihlman, a tenant-at-will of the land, for the loss of the building owned by him, which is $1200.

It was shown that the building is in a deplorable condition and constitutes a menace to public health and that it is not worth more than $300. More than this the city is not inclined to pay.

Anxious to Lease Land to City

Mr. Goodell, speaking for the Locks and Canals, said his company is just as anxious to dispose of the land as is the city to acquire it. The only proposition advanced by the Locks and Canals is that it would like to retain title to the land from the standpoint of riparian rights.

It was brought out that the Locks and Canals feels some consideration should be given James H. Pihlman, a tenant-at-will of the company, on a section of the land the city seeks to acquire. The assessment on the building in 1922 was $1200 and Mr. Goodell thought that would be fair compensation for the tenant, inasmuch as he paid taxes on that sum.

City Solicitor Reynolds showed pictures of the building in question in its present condition and it was informally agreed that the building is not worth more than $300, according to estimates submitted by real estate experts.

After looking at the pictures of the building as presented by Solicitor Reynolds, the board unanimously expressed the feeling that the structure showed evidences of wilful neglect. It also was brought out that the building constituted a nuisance and a menace to public health.

It was suggested that the Locks and Canals order Mr. Pihlman off the land, but Mr. Goodell said his company is not disposed to do so, but if the city could step in and condemn it and thus cause its demolition, it would be out of the hands of the company.

The matter was left in the hands of the city solicitor, who was instructed to draw up a vote calling for the removal of the building, property adjacent to the Pihlman building, after which some action may be taken on the matter under discussion.

The board passed an amended order of sale for the Richmond street playground.

City Engineer Stephen Kearney petitioned for the removal of a tree in East Merrimack street that interferes with new paving. One other removal petition was granted and another was referred to the tree committee with power to act.

Financial Statement Submitted

Supt. John W. Korman submitted a statement of departmental expenses for the month of July which showed expenditures of $35,766.77. A present-day bill amounting to $509.55 was approved.

It was reported by Mr. Greene that progress is being made in the construction of a new wall along the river bank, bordering the new Varnum park extension.

The following new playground supervisors were appointed: Sadie L. Macdonald, 214 Chelmsford street; Theodore J. Parthoutis, 26 Phillips street; Alpheus J. Achin, 384 Fletcher street; and Arthur C. Sullivan, Waverley ave.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Autoist Fined For Driving
While Intoxicated—Liquor
and Other Cases

Thomas Scanlon pleaded guilty before Judge Partridge in district court today, to charges of drunkenness and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $100 on the latter complaint and the drunkenness charge was filed.

Alexander Gagnon pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal keeping of liquor and a fine of $100 was levied. Cyril Gange was before the court for drunkenness. His wife testified against him and the court ordered him sent to the house of correction for five months, revoking a previous suspended sentence for non-appearance.

Augustus L. Williams and Frank M. Maguire each pleaded not guilty to drunkenness and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor and the cases were continued until August 7.

George E. Kennedy was ordered committed to the state farm. James C. Buote, charged with drunkenness, was given a suspended sentence of five months.

The case of Louis Lavon, charged with assault, was dismissed as the complainant did not care to prosecute.

Frederick L. Weigube, who was fined $20 on a larceny complaint a week ago and given until today to pay, was called and defaulted. The fine has not yet been paid, and Judge Partridge ordered a capias issued for his arrest.

The continued case of larceny against Henry Charles Curtis was filed, as civil satisfaction has been made.

Safety Lessons FOR The Auto Driver

Prepared by the National Safety
Council—Issued by the Massachusetts Safety Council.

NO. 21. AUTO ACCIDENT STATISTICS

In the United States, in 1922 there were approximately 30,000 persons accidentally killed. Of this number, only 23,000 were killed in industry. The remainder (55,000) were killed on the streets and in the homes. Over 14,000 persons were killed as the result of automobile accidents. This is the largest number that can be attributed to any one cause.

It can truly be said that the automobile is the most deadly peace-time machine. While in the industry, on the railroads and electric railways, and in the mines, through organized safety, the hazards are coming under control and accidental deaths are being reduced, the fatalities from automobile accidents are mounting by leaps and bounds.

Deaths caused by automobiles grew from 2000 in 1911 to 14,000 in 1922—a 600 per cent increase—although auto accident deaths in comparison with the number of automobiles has decreased.

Probably not more than one-fourth of the people in the United States are exposed to industrial hazards, but practically every one the moment he leaves the door step or his garage is exposed to the automobile hazard on the streets.

Deaths from automobiles are increasing each year with the increase in the number of automobiles. In 1910 there were 400,000 automobiles operated in our country and approximately 2200 people were killed as the result of automobile accidents.

In 1922 there were 2,000,000 automobiles and over 14,000 deaths. This is more than one-half the number of people who were killed in all our industries, mines and railroads in the same period of time.

In 1922, the automobile was responsible for 87 per cent of all deaths caused by accidents, more than three times the number caused by railroads and seven times the deaths due to street railways.

Whether or not this death rate will continue to increase depends largely upon the efforts put forth by individual drivers to prevent automobile accidents, and pedestrians to avoid them.

EL PASO, Tex., July 31.—Reports that Pauchio Villa had hidden at Pared, Chihuahua, a fortune in gold and silver were exaggerated, according to Juan Terrazas, who was in El Paso, today from Chihuahua City.

"He probably had a few hundred thousand pesos hidden around Pared," said Juan Terrazas, "but the fortune was not nearly so large as the stories about it say."

FUEL COMMISSION BEGINS SURVEY OF R. I.

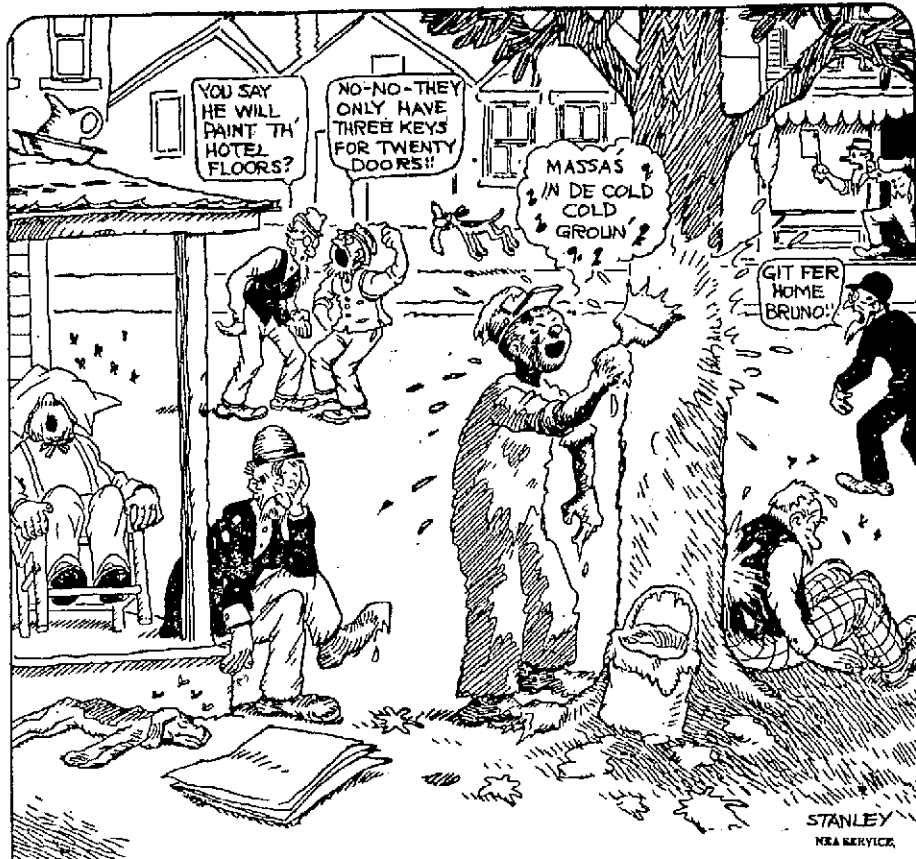

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 31.—State Fuel Commissioner George H. Webb today began a survey of Rhode Island to ascertain the amount of hard and soft coal on hand, sold and unsold, and an estimate of the needs to carry the state through to April 1, 1924. He also asked the dealers for their opinion as to the outlook for a normal supply of anthracite for the winter in the event that there is no coal strike next month.

SISLER HOPES TO RETURN TO GAME

ST. LOUIS, July 31.—George Sisler today asserted that he had high hopes of playing with the St. Louis Americans before the end of the season. He added that his vision was much improved and that he was able to hit a golf ball with regularity. Persons who have watched Sisler on the links have the quality of his game indicates no evidence of seriously impaired vision.

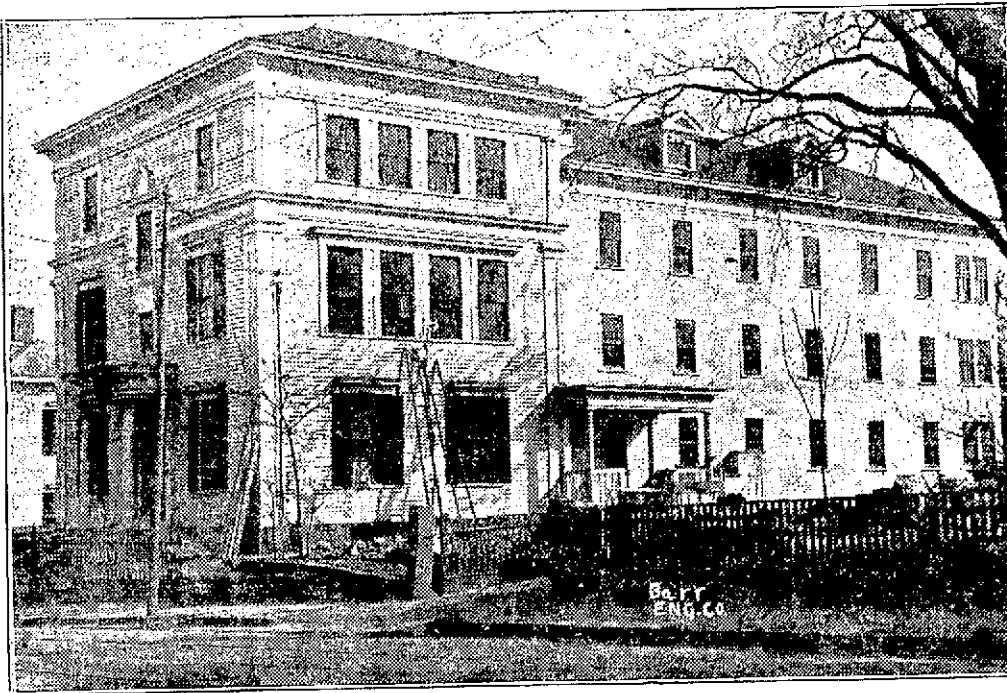

TOOK BOY TO HOSPITAL

Harry L. its successor adds to the appearance of the locality in general and the hospital itself in particular. Nothing was left undone to make it a real home and Miss Halliburton Kelly, supervisor of nurses, stated today that the building is a model of aesthetic beauty and will meet with the heartiest appreciation from the nurses.

The building measures 62 by 35 feet and contains three stories and an attic. On the main floor is the reception room, handsomely designed and equipped with elaborate electrical fixtures. Beautiful draperies adorn the window frames, while the hardwood floors are made doubly attractive with expensive art squares of brilliant and unusual design. The superintendent's living quarters and chamber, with new and attractive mahogany furniture, lend a harmonizing effect to the entire interior. Fine draperies and colored tapestries have a pleasing decorative effect and make the superintendent's rooms charmingly homelike.

The individual bed rooms for the nurses, with entrances from the lengthy and light-colored corridors, are furnished with spacious closets with all modern improvements. Each of the closets is illuminated by a window and is large enough to house every necessity. The floors are carpeted and the beds are cozy and inviting. Every room in the building is supplied with a rope fire escape, while each of the three floors contains an ell with complete toilets, lavatories, closets and baths.

On the first and second floors, sun rooms, 8 by 28 feet, have been added. One of the more modern apparatus of the first floor which by an electrical process, carries the dust and deposits in a roof compartment. A modernized laundry, containing set tubs, ironing boards and electric irons, is located in the basement.

DEPARTMENT IS AHEAD WILL TAKE COMMAND OF OWSLEY TO ADDRESS OF WORK SCHEDULE INFANTRY REGIMENT A. F. OF L. CONVENTION

The city street department is ahead of its schedule on granite block, reinforced concrete, sheet asphalt and asphalt concrete paving and with a fair break in the matter of weather conditions will retain this lead to the end of the season.

For the week ending last Saturday, the 26th, 7923.1 square yards of granite block pavement had been laid, against a scheduled amount for that date of 7655.5; 5769.9 square yards of reinforced concrete had been laid, against a schedule of 4400; and 10,945.05 square yards of sheet asphalt and asphalt concrete had been laid against a schedule which called for 10,643.4 yards.

The 10,945 square yards of sheet asphalt and asphalt concrete laid completes the city's contract with the Nashua Construction Co. and on Thursday of this week the purchasing agent will open a new set of bids calling for 20,000 yards, more or less, of asphalt concrete paving materials. As soon as this contract is awarded, this type of paving will be continued.

PLASTER BIDS OPEN

The city building inspector today opened bids on a proposal to plaster rooms and corridors in the high school annex damaged by fire. M. P. Connor bid $1742 and Austin Gallery, $1300.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. Frederick Dugdale, Specialist on Chronic Blood and Nervous Diseases, announces the removal of his offices August 1st, from 31 Central St. (Mansard Bldg.), where he has practiced for the past 15 years, to the New Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank Bldg., John St.

Hours for consultation will continue as at present, Wednesday and Saturday, 2-4, 7-8 p.m.

Col. Alfred Aloe, chief recruiting officer of the first cons army, has been ordered to Fort Benning, Ga., to take command of an infantry regiment.

Col. Aloe has been in charge of recruiting in this district for about three years and has proved exceptionally popular with the men under his command.

He is well known in Lowell for he was in charge of the Citizens' Military Training camp at Devens when it was first held and was as popular in that position as he has since been in the recruiting office.

Sgt. T. J. Kimball, local recruiting officer, has served under Col. Aloe for three years and says that there was never a fairer or better liked man in command of recruiting in this district, and stated that the colonel always gave the men in the branch offices an opportunity to present their side of every question that arose in the course of their work.

THE ISOLATION HOSPITAL NORMAL SCHOOL

Legislative Committee 'Well
Pleased With Conditions at
Local Institution

The joint legislative committee on state administration, sitting as a recess committee for the purpose of visiting tuberculosis hospitals, visited the isolation hospital on Varnum avenue yesterday afternoon, and was greatly pleased with the management, appearance of the building and the accommodations.

The committee arrived in Lowell at 4 o'clock and was met by Dr. Forster H. Smith, superintendent of the hospital. Every bit of the hospital property was thoroughly investigated by the committee, and at the conclusion of the investigation, at about 5:30 o'clock, the consensus of opinion was that for management, appearance and general conditions, the hospital was all that could be desired, and one member of the committee said, it is too bad that the other hospitals in the state are not as well taken care of as this one.

Chairman Early complimented Dr. Smith highly for his work as superintendent of the hospital also. He said that the isolation hospital had made a very favorable impression upon him and he stated that he believed it to be one of the best of the committee had visited to date. He also said that in his opinion it was one of the best conducted hospitals in the state.

The committee is headed by Representative Bernard Early of Newton and is now making a tour of the state, county and city hospitals for the purpose of ascertaining what changes should be made in the law passed five years ago that compelled all cities and counties to provide contagious hospitals. After thoroughly investigating conditions all through the state, the joint committee will introduce a bill next January providing a settlement of this matter.

Senator Charles P. Howard of Reading, speaking about this investigation today, said that the state as a whole has too many beds but that Middlesex county has not enough beds to take care of its sick. Two courses are open to the committee and they are that they recommend the combining of areas so that the districts having too large a hospital may take care of the sick from a district where the hospital is inadequate, or recommend that new hospitals be built.

Prior to visiting the Lowell hospital, the committee had visited the contagious hospitals in Lawrence and Haverhill. The party consisted of Representative Bernard Early, chairman; Senator Charles P. Howard of Reading; Senator Warren T. Bell of Somerville; Representative Bert Dwyer of Malden; Representative Joseph Larson of Everett; Representative Susan Fitzgerald of Boston; Dr. Samuel Remick, director of the tuberculosis division of the state department of health; and Dr. Lyman A. Jones, district health officer, state department of health.

OVERCROWDED

Between 30 and 50 Young
Women Will Be Turned
Away This Fall

Same Conditions Said to
Exist in Each of State's Ten
Training Schools

At least 30 and possibly more young women anxious to start upon teaching careers will be turned away from the Lowell Normal school this coming fall because of lack of room. Most of these girls will go on a waiting list for next year, while a few may enter a normal school elsewhere, provided that school, too, is not filled to capacity.

It is safe to say that not more than two of the state's ten normal schools, one of which is the Normal Art school in Boston and the other the normal school at Hyannis, will not have full quotas when the school year begins in September.

The distressing part of the condition in Lowell is that no relief seems possible within the near future and this, coupled with the probability that each succeeding year will find more and more young women in the Merrimack valley anxious to enter the school, with no expansion in accommodations, makes a serious educational situation.

Clarence M. Weed, principal of the Lowell Normal school, in the city temporarily during his summer vacation, said today that he fully expects to be forced to turn away 30 or more young women who will be certified for entrance before school begins in the fall. The school can accommodate an entering class of 120; 94 young women already have been certified and between 50 and 70 others are in the process of certification. The result will be overcrowding and many disappointed girls anxious to become teachers, will have to wait another year.

About two years ago the state purchased for the Lowell Normal school the Parker estate which adjoins the present school grounds, with the intention of erecting a dormitory on school property thereon. Asked today when the dormitory might be expected, Mr. Weed's reply was, in effect, that it might be five years, maybe ten in the future. The state department of education contends that it would be inadvisable to build a dormitory in Lowell until a new school building also was erected, for the dormitory would attract many more young women than at present and to properly develop more class room space should precede a dormitory building.

A number of years ago the state also purchased a large tract of land for the Normal Art school in Boston and this project, still in the air, seems to have the right of way over all other needed improvements and enlargements. Until Boston gets its new normal art school, then Lowell will not along with the normal school equipment it now has.

It is a rather unusual situation, but the state department is governed entirely in its amount of spending money by the appropriation voted by the legislature and until this is substantially increased no great amount of normal school expansion is anticipated either in Lowell or elsewhere.

2000 PILGRIMS LEAVE ROME FOR LOURDES

ROME, July 31.—A band of 2000 pilgrims left today for Lourdes, France, to visit the famous grotto. Pope Pius received the delegation, but insisted that the 500 pilgrims whom it included should not be taken to the Vatican test they be further falkuad. He sent these sufferers the apostolic blessing, and his good wishes for their recovery.

The annual garden party of St. Mary's Star of the Sea church, Everett, will take place on August 4. Lowell people will undoubtedly attend this affair as a compliment to the pastor, Rev. John A. Dugan, pastor of the St. Columba church, this city.

The following members of the fire department leave Thursday for their annual vacation period: Lieut. G. H. McDermott and Privates G. A. Crawford, H. P. Finnelly, P. J. Geary, J. J. Hurley, A. E. Kenelek, J. H. Lannon, M. T. McLean, J. J. Moran, Jr., E. J. O'Donnell, W. P. F. O. J. Townsend and J. H. Tracy.

Mr. Thomas A. Bailey and Mr. Walter J. O'Brien, of Mitchell, the Tailor, have arranged to take a trip through the state of Maine. Several points of interest were visited, including Poland Springs, Moosehead lake, Old Orchard and Portland. Mrs. Daly and family were also in the party.

Miss Emily Skilton, policewoman, left Lowell today for a two weeks' stay at the Conference of Eastern Workers at East Northfield, Mass. Policewoman Emma DeaForbes returned to her desk today after a two weeks' trip. Policewoman Mabel Armstrong will leave Saturday for two weeks' stay at Camp Ocklawaha, Lake Wales, Fla.

President Harding Wins First Skirmish In Fight Against Broncho Pneumonia

BROCKTON SHOE STRIKE CALLED OFF Official Bulletin Reports No Expansion of the Pneumonic Areas and Heart Action Definitely Improved

New Sacred Heart Rectory in Moore St

Within a week, it is expected, the new and commodious rectory of the Oblate Fathers of the Sacred Heart parish, will be ready for occupancy and the priests of the parish will move into one of the best and most up-to-date dwellings of its kind in the city. Work on the construction of the new building began about a year ago, the old wooden building which has served as a parish house for several years being removed to a vacant lot in the rear of the church on St. James street.

The new structure is a three-story brick building, conveniently located next to the church in Moore street. It is 39 by 52 feet long with a two-story ell 36 by 22 feet. The trimmings are of cut stone and the cornices of terra cotta. The main entrance is on Moore street, leading into a spacious vestibule and well appointed corridor. On the first floor are the offices and reception rooms, splendidly equipped chapel, main stairway, dining room and serving room. In the rear of the building on this floor, which is entirely separated from the main building, are the bed rooms and baths for the attendants.

The second floor contains six bedrooms with four shower rooms connecting from room to room. In the rear, overlooking the lawn, is the general living room with a large sun porch connected. The third floor contains five bed rooms with three connecting showers. The study room and library is located on this floor which is fitted with book cases, etc. The basement contains the kitchen, pantries, store rooms, laundry, heating plant and general storage and every modern convenience to facilitate the duties of the attendants. The building is finished throughout in plain oak, with oak and maple floors. The shower rooms are lined with tile and the floors are of terrazzo, while the floors of the porches are of Red Quarry tile. The plan of the building makes an ideal community house and is a great improvement to the Sacred Heart parish.

Uncertain Whether New Union Will Continue in Existence

BROCKTON, July 31.—The Brockton shoe strike was called off this afternoon in its 12th week at a mass meeting of strikers which opened at 10 o'clock this morning and concluded at about 2.30 this afternoon.

"It is useless to continue the strike any longer," President Joseph E. LaCour of the Brockton district shoe workers said at the close of the meeting. It is uncertain whether the new union will continue in existence. Leaders said Brockton shoe manufacturers promised this afternoon that as many of the strikers as there is room for in the many factories will be taken back. "We will take back as many as possible," said one manufacturer, "but only those who have reinstated themselves in the Boot and Shoe Workers' union. In no instance will an entire line of employees be taken back in any factory," he said.

LATEST OFFICIAL BULLETIN ON CONDITION OF PRESIDENT

PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, PALACE HOTEL, SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—(By the Associated Press)—Definite indications of the improvement in the condition of President Harding were contained in an official bulletin issued at 10 a. m., (2 o'clock Lowell time), today by the attending physicians.

"The president had a fairly comfortable night with considerable restful sleep.

"His temperature at 9 a. m., is 100; pulse 120; respiration 40, and regular. There has been no expansion of the pneumonic areas and the heart action is definitely improved.

"Nourishment and fluids are being taken regularly. Elimination is satisfactory.

"He expresses himself as feeling better and less exhausted."

"The president has had the best night, comparatively, that he has had since his illness began," said General Sawyer. "That augurs well. The conditions seem to warrant the statement that apparently he has gotten into clear sailing."

OVER $1700 COLLECTED FOR MOTOR LAW VIOLATIONS HERE IN JULY

A total of $1763 in fines was collected in Lowell District court during the month of July, which closes today, from offenders convicted of violations of the motor vehicle laws. This amount is far in excess of any other single month, a record breaker in fact.

So far this year, a total of $3835 has been collected in fines for violation of the motor laws, and this seven months' record is far in excess of the record for the entire 12 months of 1922, when a total of $2938 was collected.

For the first three months of the present year the total amount of fines paid amounted to only $162, but the months of April, May and June more than made up for this. The total for the second quarter amounted to $2672, and the one month of July is only a few hundred behind the preceding three months.

LOWELL'S SHARE OF THE STATE TAX

Lowell's share of the state tax for 1923 is greater by $45,794 than the amount to be received from the commonwealth as the city's share of the state income tax. Lowell must pay to the state the sum of $206,166 and in return will receive $251,960. Figures as to the amount of payment and reimbursement have been compiled by Henry P. Long, state commissioner of corporations and taxation.

President's Recovery

PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, PALACE HOTEL, SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding appeared today to have won the first preliminary skirmish in his fight against broncho-pneumonia and attending complications.

An official bulletin, issued by the five physicians attending him said there had been no extension during the night and earlier part of the day of the pneumonic areas and the heart action was definitely improved. It added also that he had been benefited by a fairly comfortable night, with considerable restful sleep.

The president, the bulletin said, had expressed himself as feeling better and less exhausted. His temperature at 9 a. m., was given as 100, about a degree less than that of yesterday, pulse 120, a drop of five from yesterday and his respiration 40 and regular, as contrasted with 44 and irregular, as given in reports of yesterday.

Equally as reassuring as the official bulletin, was the statement by Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, Mr. Harding's personal physician, made informally at 8 a. m., as follows: "The president has had the best night comparatively, that he has had since his illness began. That augurs well. The conditions seem to warrant the statement that apparently he has gotten into clear sailing."

Approximately six hours of sleep were obtained by the chief executive during the night. When he awakened about 6 o'clock his first request was for the morning newspapers.

NEW FEATURE EMBODIED IN PLANS FOR FIRE HOUSE IN THE OAKLANDS DISTRICT

A new feature in fire engine house construction never before embodied in this vicinity, at least, is incorporated in architect's plans of the new Oakland house now in process of construction in the office of Davis & Ryan.

When complete the plans will call for front and rear doors, the front for exit and the rear for entrance. This will eliminate turning and backing the apparatus into the house on return from a fire. The idea came in the form of a suggestion from Chief Edward F. Saunders and while it was a new and somewhat radical departure from the accepted scheme of such buildings, it is working out splendidly, the architects say, and will be productive of much favorable criticism.

The chief, the architects and Building Inspector Francis A. Connor, feel the house will be of great interest to fire and building officials all over the country and expect to see the idea copied in many cities. This two-door plan would not work out advantageously in every location, but there is nothing to prevent it in connection with the Oakland site, for there plenty of land is available for driveway use in the rear.

The house will be of brick construction built in the shape of a T and will accommodate one piece of apparatus and crew. The city has appropriated $35,000 for its erection and the architects said today they expect to remain well within bounds in the matter of cost. It is expected plans will be matured sufficiently within two weeks to allow the inspector of buildings to call for construction bids.

day pointed to the cut of $56,000 made in the department's estimates early in the year before the original budget was voted and said it will be impossible to finance the department without most of this money being voted back in a supplemental appropriation.

A warm discussion over rules of procedure also is expected tonight. At present the committee is operating under the rules of 1922, adopted until a new set was approved, but some members of the committee feel new rules should be drawn up and on one or two specific instances, change some of the rules now in force. A rules committee, named some time ago, has not met, it is said, and it is the intention of several members to endeavor to have some action taken.

O'BRIEN'S for DYSPEPSIA

The World's Greatest Stomach Remedy

Don't experiment on a stomach remedy. You don't have to! A New England doctor years ago made a reputation for curing stomach ills. He prescribed a medicine that did its work surely—effectively. Twenty-five years ago he permitted this same prescription to be compounded under the trade name of O'BRIEN'S for Dyspepsia. Since then many have gained healthy digestion through its use. They bought it from druggists—they saved endless dollars and endless hours of suffering.

O'BRIEN'S for Dyspepsia—compounded from the highest grade ingredients—Wine of Pepsin, Bismuth Citrate, Cinchona Alkaloids and Aromatics. Ask any stomach specialist about the medicinal value of these ingredients. He will tell you, as your druggist will tell you, that they are widely used.

So remarkable has been the success of O'BRIEN'S for Dyspepsia that it is now sold under the broadest guarantee ever given. Read it—then get your bottle from the nearest druggist listed below.

GUARANTEE

In chronic cases we recommend taking the full treatment of at least three bottles of O'BRIEN'S. If after taking this full treatment you have not obtained absolute relief return the three empty O'Brien bottles to your druggist and money will be refunded.

MATRIMONIAL.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place yesterday afternoon when Miss Helen McCabe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Tansey of 68 Loring street, and Patrick J. Hogan a popular employee of the Eastern Mass. St. City Co., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at five o'clock at St. Margaret's parochial residence, Rev. Chas. J. Galligan, pastor, being the officiating clergyman. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen E. Tansey and the best man was Mr. John H. Graham. The bride wore white crepe de chine trimmed with chamois lace; a veil trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a bridal bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a gown of grey georgette over pink and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold piece, and the groom's gift to the best man was a traveling bag. A wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 68 Loring street, and a wedding supper was served. The ushers at the home were George Burns, Joseph Tansey and Alfred Hagan. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and palm. During the evening a musical program was furnished under the direction of Mr. James McMahon. Guests were present from Clinton, Cambridge and Marblehead. The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. Hogan left on a honeymoon trip to New York, Washington and Philadelphia. They will be at home to friends after September at their new home, 217 Liberty street, this city.

Lowney-McCabe

Miss Mary Helen McCabe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. McCabe of 516 Lawrence street, and Mr. Patrick A. Lowney, son of Mrs. Ellen Lowney of 371 Lawrence street, were married at the Sacred Heart rectory yesterday afternoon by Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I. Miss Anna McCabe, a sister of the bride, was the bride's attendant while the best man was Mr. Walter W. Lowney, a brother of the bridegroom. The bride wore a wedding dress of tan moiré silk with picture hat to match, while the bridesmaid wore a dress of grey crepe with hat to match. The bride carried a bouquet of white and pink tea roses, the bridesmaid a bouquet of pink Columbia roses. The bride gave her attendant a string of pearl beads and the bridesmaid gave the best man a pair of gold cuff links. After the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 516 Lawrence street, where a wedding supper was served by Harvey. Mr. and Mrs. Lowney will be at home to friends after Aug. 20.

Tourville-Champagne

Mr. Alphons Tourville and Miss Rose A. Champagne were united in marriage at 7 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Joseph's church by Rev. Armand Bacon, O.M.I. The couple was attended by Mr. Eusebe Champagne, father of the bride and Mr. Wilfred Tourville, brother of the bridegroom. The choir, under the direction of Miss Camire, rendered appropriate hymns. The bride was attended in white crepe with veil caught up with lilies-of-the-valley, and carried a shower bouquet of roses. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 455 Moody street. The couple left yesterday afternoon for an extended trip to New York, upon their return Saturday, a reception will be tendered at the home of the bride's parents.

Kenner-Frand

The wedding of Miss Beryl Madeline Frand, formerly of this city, and Mr. Dana Ewart Kenner, of Chicago, took place in Chicago at the Hyde Park Methodist Episcopal church, July 28, at 4 o'clock. Rev. William E. English, D.D., formerly pastor of the Kirk Street Congregational church, performed the wedding ceremony.

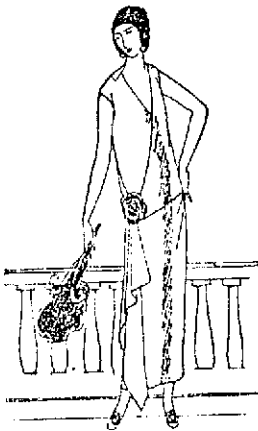

Mrs. Kenner was a graduate of the Lowell high and Normal schools and was well known in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Kenner took a wedding trip through Glen park, Denver, Colo., where the bridegroom resided prior to his living in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Kenner will be at home, Oct. 1, to friends, at 5125 Blackstone avenue, Chicago.

Lemieux-Briere

At a nuptial mass celebrated at 3 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Louis church, Mr. Joseph H. Lemieux and Miss Yvonne Briere were united in the bonds of matrimony by Rev. Father Labrosse, pastor of the church. During the ceremony the choir rendered appropriate selections. Miss Irene Verrier, rendered Rosawig's Ave Maria, and the Misses Irene Mordet and Laura Mordet, "O Sublatis."

The bride was attired in white with veil caught up with lilies-of-the-valley.

"Black Gold" Fails to Change Her

EILEEN DE NOYA

By N.E.A. Service
PONCA CITY, Okla., July 27.—Back in the days of '13, Eileen DeNoya's great-grandfather struck out for California in search of gold.

But Eileen, prettiest and most popular maiden in the Osage Indian tribe, content with the life among her people, never strayed far from her native district.

Yet plenty of gold has come her way. And it was discovered right on her allotment on the government reservation near here.

It was not the shiny, glittering, yellow gold her grandfather sought. It was black. But it was just as profitable.

Oil today is spouting from hundreds of wells on Eileen's lands. And the town, which sprang up here almost overnight, bears the name of the Indian girl upon whose acres it was built.

Now it's the most enterprising little city in the entire Osage field, recognized as the greatest oil producing section in the world.

Eileen has received many offers for her land. But all her would-be-buyers have been rejected. Letters proposing marriage arrive in every mail.

The beautiful Osage princess wants only to be left alone. She's satisfied with a life of quiet luxury and ease here among her people.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 35 Ludlam street after which the couple left for an extended trip to Canada.

INSTITUTE OF POLITICS

Rowe Says So. American Countries No Longer Regard Doctrine as Protection

WILLIAMSTOWN, July 31.—South American countries no longer look upon the Monroe Doctrine as a source of protection to them, Leo S. Rowe, director-general of the Pan-American Union, said in an address which opened the conference on "International problems of the American continent," at the Institute of Politics today. Mr. Rowe thought this fact should be kept in mind by the United States when dealing with problems of the continent.

South Americans were described as having no fears of aggression or oppression from Europeans and as refusing to lend an ear to isolationist sentiments.

According to Dr. Rowe the United States would do well to give its neighbors to the south a clearer understanding of American culture and ideals. He pointed out that European governments, notably France, were active in creating cultural bonds between themselves and the countries of South America.

REPAIRING ANDOVER STREET CAR LINE

Tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock, through service on the Andover street car line will be stopped to allow the tearing up of the old special work (switches, cross-overs, and curved rails) connecting East Merrimack and Nesmith streets, and Nesmith and Andover streets. The Andover street cars will run as far as the corner of East Merrimack and Nesmith streets and the passengers will have to walk to the corner of Nesmith and Andover streets. A shuttle car will operate between a shuttle car will operate in a day so that the line will be open as usual Thursday.

The new single rail between East Merrimack street and Andover street has been laid, with the exception of the special work, and with the completion of this "conveyor," the street railway will have completed its work on this section of Nesmith street and the street department will be able to put in the new smooth-paving whenever they are ready.

The work of laying a new single-rail, replacing the old double rail, between Andover and Rogers streets on Nesmith street is progressing rapidly and it is expected that this will be completed within a week or so and the street railway company will then have completed its share of the work in reconstructing Nesmith street.

"SOCIAL INADEQUATES" SENT TO UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, July 31.—It appears "as if some governments are sending their social inadequates to the United States to avoid their custodial care," Mrs. Muriel Lynch Crichton, a special investigator, sent by Secretary Davis of the labor department, to study immigration details in Europe, reported today to Acting Secretary Edward J. Henning.

Recommending a "selective policy" of immigration control, Mrs. Crichton added that she had heard of "young criminals receiving suspended sentences on condition that they emigrate to the United States."

"The selection of prospective immigrants should be made overseas," she said, "and not at an American port of entry. Too often passports are issued abroad only to have the alien denied admission at Ellis Island."

Lowell Doctor Found Guilty

Continued

Walter C. Jussman, driver of an ice cart, testified that just before the accident happened he noticed Dr. Shaw driving along the street, at a rate of about 50 miles an hour. As the machine passed the ice cart, Mr. Jussman said he looked around after it, and then the accident happened.

There were several boys riding in the ice wagon, but Mr. Jussman thought they had all jumped off before the auto came along. It appeared, however, that the boy who was killed was the last to jump off, and while running from the wagon to the sidewalk, he was struck.

The witness testified that the boy was dragged a few feet after he was hit, and that the machine was brought to a stop about 50 feet from where the body lay. Dr. Shaw then took the boy to the hospital.

Charles Rinker also offered testimony as to the rate of speed in the ice wagon. He said that he was riding in the ice wagon also told their version of the accident.

Dr. Shaw in his testimony said he could not just remember what happened previous to the accident, but his impression was that he was not going over 15 miles an hour. He could not recall how many boys ran across the road, but said his impression was that when at a distance of about 50 feet from the ice cart he saw one boy run across the road. The doctor then took his foot off the gas, but under questioning he said he did not apply his brake.

The witness was hazy about just when he saw the boy that was struck. He told of later tests made in his car at the place where the accident occurred. Sgt. Fred Cotter, police department chauffeur, testified that at the request of Dr. Shaw, he made several tests in the auto, a Ray State sedan. The tests were made near the spot where the accident occurred, where there is a slight up-grade.

Sgt. Cotter said that while driving at a rate of 15 miles an hour, he brought the car to a stop at 21 feet with the foot brake. Driving at the rate of 20 miles, he stopped at 32 feet, and at the rate of 25 miles he stopped at 50 feet. Driving at the rate of 10 miles an hour, and applying both the foot and emergency brakes, he testified, he brought the car to a stop at 10 feet; at 15 miles an hour he stopped at 17 feet, and driving at 20 miles an hour he stopped at 33 feet, by applying both emergency and foot brakes.

Testimony in regard to the tests was corroborated by Daniel P. Mortar-

BILL AGAINST TRUSTEES FORMER LOWELL MAN OF EASTERN MASS. DIES SUDDENLY

BOSTON, July 31.—A bill in equity and a petition for a writ of mandamus were brought in the supreme court today by L. Sherman Adams of Woburn, seeking to compel the public trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. to pay a further dividend of 2 1/2 per cent. on adjustment stock accruing in February last and also a dividend of 6 per cent. on common shares. These dividends would total $1,219,956.

Mr. Adams, who holds a considerable amount of various classes of the company's stock, says that the claim of the trustees that earnings and surplus are insufficient to pay these dividends, is wholly unwarranted on the face of the trustees reports to the department of public utilities and that their refusal to pay is against the requirements of the statute placing the property under the management of public trustees.

BOSTON, July 31.—Arthur W. Hall, of Rockland, Me., proofreader for the Boston Post, died yesterday at the Commonwealth hospital after a four-day illness. He was taken ill while at work Thursday and was removed to the hospital where his wife and Oliver L. Hall, a brother, were summoned. Mr. Hall, who was 53 years of age, was in the printing trades his whole life.

He was born in Rockland, Me., the son of Judge O. G. Hall. While still very young he adopted the printing trade as his vocation and joined the staff of the Rockland Courier Gazette. As a proofreader he had worked in Plymouth and Lowell before joining the Boston Post two years ago.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons, 27 and 18 years old, and two daughters, 11 and 7 years of age. He also leaves a sister, Hattie V. of Augusta, Me. His brother, Oliver, who was at his bedside at the time of his death, is editor of the Bangor Commercial. The deceased was a member of the Boston Typographical union, No. 13. His funeral will be held Wednesday from the Burpee undertaking parlors, Winter street, Rockland, Me.

MASS. INCOME TAXES TOTAL $13,500,000

BOSTON, July 31.—State income tax collections in Massachusetts will total $13,500,000 this year as against $12,000,000 in 1922, an increase of about 12 per cent., according to a statement issued by Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long today. Notification of the distribution of the income tax, according to the share of the various cities and towns in the state tax was sent out today to all local assessors. Under the law local assessors must use the total amount of the income tax distributed to reduce the money tax levy.

Shaw, who was with Sgt. Cotter and Dr. Shaw when the tests were made.

Attorney Babcock Walsh, counsel for the defendant, laid great stress upon the testimony of Sgt. Cotter in his argument, as against the testimony of Mr. Jussman that the car was traveling at the rate of 50 miles an hour and was brought to a stop within 30 feet.

In summing up the case Judge Enright said he was impressed by the testimony of Mr. Jussman, particularly in reference to that part in which the witness said that the car was traveling at such speed as to cause him to turn around and look after it.

The court felt that there was sufficient evidence for conviction, and so ordered, but because of the extenuating circumstances in the case, the death of a boy, the court desired further time to think it over before passing sentence.

Imposition of sentence was deferred until Saturday.

TROTSKY NOW FOREMOST FIGURE IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, July 31.—Since Premier Lenin became seriously ill, Leon Trotsky, soviet Russia's war commissar, has become the foremost figure in the soviet government. He has no working day. Every workman, laborer, or employee in soviet Russia has a 2-hour working day, consequently looked after by the Trade Union council and guarded by the labor code. But Trotsky has none. His working day is much over eight hours and as regards time, day and night are treated alike.

Trotsky begins his day with the newspapers. They serve him as a means of staying in human connection and business information. He reads them just as he would listen to a report by one of his officers and very often the newspaper information is followed by quick interpretation.

Very often a news telegram, a reporter's item, or a quite uninteresting interview paves the road for an important decision. Then at various times during the day and night, Trotsky reads and dictates.

He always reads with a pencil in hand, which he holds like a surgeon holds his instrument. He underlines, annotates, numbers the author's works. He relaxes by indulging in his favorite sports, hunting and fishing.

GARY SAYS PROHIBITION HAS HELPED WORKMEN

NEW YORK, July 31.—Prohibition has been of great benefit to American workmen, particularly those in the steel industry, Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, said in a statement to the New York Times today. Despite violations of the 18th amendment in large cities, the good effects of prohibition, he said, included decreases in crime and poverty, and increases in health and savings of workers.

Mr. Gary opposed proposals to amend the Volstead act to permit the sale of light wines and beer.

Railway Employees Vote to Strike

NEWARK, N. J., July 31.—Employees of the public service railway company's lines in Newark, Paterson, Camden, Jersey City, Elizabeth, New Brunswick and other New Jersey towns today voted overwhelmingly in favor of a strike to begin at midnight tonight to obtain their demands for a 20 per cent. wage increase and improved working conditions.

Decoyed By Message Doctor Beaten

BOSTON, July 31.—Decoyed by a message from a man who telephoned in an agitated voice that his little baby was dying, Dr. David M. Bloom hurried to Orleans street, late last night. When he arrived robbers leaped upon him, choked him into unconsciousness and rifled his pockets, taking $50. Bruised and weak he made his way to the district police station to report the case early today.

Six Indictments Against N. Y. Broker

NEW YORK, July 31.—Six indictments were returned today against Louis Montgomery Kardos, formerly head of the stock brokerage concern of Kardos and Burke, which failed last year for more than $2,000,000.

Lightning and Fire Destroy Big Church

ATTICA, N. Y., July 31.—Fire late yesterday afternoon destroyed St. Patrick's church at Java Center, after lightning struck the spire. The edifice, one of the largest in Wyoming county, was built in 1871. Loss was estimated at $50,000.

Fleeing Boy Shot By Policeman

NEW YORK, July 31.—When Benjamin Forman, 16, chased by Policeman Goldman early today, turned and made a quick movement with his right hand, the bluecoat thinking the boy was about to draw a pistol, shot him through the stomach. He is in a serious condition. The boy was charged with burglary and felonious assault.

SYMPTOMS OF DEBILITY

How to Tell Whether Your Blood Needs Revitalizing

The symptoms of general debility vary according to the cause, but weakness is always present, a tendency to nervous and fatigable easily, ringing in the ears, sometimes black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, vertigo, wakefulness caused by inability to stop thinking and unrefreshing sleep. The cause of the trouble may be some drain on the system or it may be mental or physical overwork, sometimes insufficient nutrition due to digestive disturbance.
If you have any or all of these symptoms, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and as the new blood courses through your veins there should be an increase in your appetite, a better digestion and soon a renewal of strength and vigor.
Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your druggist's today or write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., enclosing 50 cents and a box will be sent you postpaid. A little book, "Building Up the Blood," which explains the treatment, will be sent free on request.—Adv.

Circular Distributed in London Inviting Investment in Scheme to Ship Whiskey

Sir Broderick Hartwell, Veteran of South African and World War in Charge

Plans to Run Shop on Ocean and Sell Only Real Stuff—Every Cargo Insured

LONDON, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—A business circular is being distributed here in the name of Sir Broderick Hartwell, a veteran of the South African and World wars, inviting investment in the scheme for shipping whiskey abroad. The plan, says the circular, offers "an opportunity of making a 20 per cent. profit on the capital every 60 days."

The paper asserts that 5000 cases of whiskey will be shipped within the next four weeks, and that arrangements have been made to transport therefor 10,000 cases monthly, payment for which is guaranteed on the arrival of the consignments at a point 20 miles from shore. The circular leaves the investor to guess what shore is meant, but the Daily News says it is the American. "My idea is to run a shop on the

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. Ida Hawley, 1624 Penna. Ave. S.E., Washington, D.C.

Such letters from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

BRITISH CABINET TAKES UP REPLIES TO NOTE

LONDON, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—The principal business before the cabinet today was the discussion of the Franco-Belgian communications in reply to Great Britain's reparations note. It was generally opined in political circles that the ministers were approaching their task with serious anxiety. The consensus of opinion here is that France is unmovable in her position and that she has the support of Belgium as far as passive resistance and the continuation of the Ruhr occupation are concerned. It is understood, however, that the Belgian note expresses a wish for a solution of the tangle and also announced a willingness to agree to the appointment of an expert commission to consider Germany's ability to pay. Belgium is also said to have made certain constructive suggestions which are the subject of considerable speculation.

Important Decision Coming

LONDON, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—An important decision regarding Great Britain's policy toward her French and Belgian allies in the matter of reparations, was expected to be the outcome of a cabinet meeting today. The cabinet had to decide whether Great Britain would accede to France's request for additional information regarding the French proposals, thereby involving further delays, or whether the British government should assume the responsibility of negotiating direct with Germany without the approval of France or Belgium. It was pointed out in British official circles that the German government was finding itself surrounded by ever-growing difficulties, and that it was possible that before Great Britain, France and Belgium could agree on a uniform policy, the German government might fall.

HARDING'S ILLNESS HITS STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—Reports that President Harding's condition was grave brought a large volume of selling orders into today's stock market and caused a break of 1 to 2 points in United States Steel, Standard Oil, Baldwin and other speculative leaders. Commission houses reported that much of the liquidation came from small investors who had become frightened at the turn for the worse in the president's illness.

HEAVY DAMAGE CAUSED BY FLOOD IN OHIO

BALTIMORE, July 31.—After causing exceedingly heavy damage to property the flood which swept the counties west and northwest of Baltimore reached its crest early today, and slowly started to recede. The flood was caused by cloudbursts and a series of thunder storms, causing the Patuxent river to overflow its banks late yesterday carrying bridges and buildings before it and driving hundreds of families from their homes. Rescue parties fought through the darkness and rising waters to save families whose homes were threatened. Town after town was thrown into darkness making work by rescue parties very difficult. In addition to the families that were forced to abandon their homes, others who sought refuge on upper floors had to be rescued by neighbors. Farms and livestock were swept away in the swiftly flowing current. Mills and power plants were flooded and their machinery wrecked. Whole sections of railroad tracks were torn up and whirled away.

About twice as much power is required to stop an express train as is necessary to start one.

30 IS - MAGICAL AGE

Life Insurance Company in
Interesting Report Says Slim
People Live Longest

NEW YORK, July 31.—Thirty is the magical age in the health development of the ordinary person's life. At 30 he is supposed more nearly to approach the normal. Under 30 he may well weigh a number of pounds above the average called for in the standard height, weight and age tables, but after 30 the longest life span prevails among those whose weights are uniformly below the average, according to figures compiled by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., of this city, and given out by the American Child Health Association.

The association asks everyone to keep track of his or her weight, and to remedy any excessive diet and right living. In a statement accompanying the figures Dr. Louis T. Dublin, of the insurance company, who compiled them, says:

"After 30, people who weigh less than the average have a better chance for long life, the records of the insurance companies show. After this age it is decided whether to be slight and a serious handicap to gain materially in weight; provided, of course, that the light weight is not the result of a sudden loss in weight which may be the result of organic disease."

"But the weight tables posted on public scales," he continues, "should not be taken too literally. Young persons may well weigh a number of pounds above the average called for by the tables. An excess of 10 pounds is associated with the most favorable conditions among people between 20 and 25 years old."

"The public should realize these facts and accommodate their habits of diet and exercise to them. In America we eat too much and too well. The oriental and the European peasant do an enormous amount of physical work on a meagre diet. No one advocates a return to primitive conditions or to lower standards of living, but it would be well for us to keep in mind the exact requirements of the adult body. We should recognize that when we have grown up we no longer need food for growth, and that for the placement of burned up tissues we need only about 2500 calories a day. This is equivalent to two very light meals and one hearty meal a day. Let me illustrate with a menu for an entire day for an active adult which will contain the required 2500 calories. For breakfast he may have a small average serving of cooked fruit or an apple or an orange, a serving of cereal, a slice of bread or one muffin with butter, a cup of coffee with sugar and cream. This will contain about 400 calories. The luncheon may consist of a salad, bread and butter, a choice of coffee, tea or cocoa, with sugar and cream and a dessert. This will account for 600 calories. The important meal of the day, or dinner may consist of a soup, an average serving of meat, potato, two green vegetables, bread and butter and dessert. If average portions are served, a total of about 1200 calories will be included. This would make the total for the day approximately 2500 calories."

"If more people checked their diet to the reasonable limits of their body requirements, there would be a great improvement in the general health of the nation."

DEVICE PATENTED BY DRACUT MEN

Thomas Bentley, and his son, Tom S. Bentley, of Spring Park avenue, Dracut, have completed the invention of a piece of machinery known as the Universal Stop Motion, for intermediate frames. This device prevents making mistakes, and thus in the spinning of yarn in preparation for the loom. It runs from the floor up to the top of the machine and is so constructed that when the rocker of the machine stops, the belt stops also. This new invention may be adjusted to all types of machines. The Bentley Stop Motion company has invented several types of stop motion for spinning frames, looms etc. In the past, and has received a number of orders for its new invention from some of the larger mills.

PILES

Can't Be Cured From the Outside
External treatments seldom cure Piles.

Nor do surgical operations.
The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M.D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold in drug stores everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless, tablet, easy to take, and always be found at Green's Drug Store, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer. Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

RIALTO THEATRE

In keeping with all accounts and traditions of splendor and magnificence attending the arrival of the Queen of Sheba at the court of King Solomon, more than three thousand years ago, is the spectacular photodrama "Queen of Sheba," which is now playing at the Rialto theatre.

There is scene after scene of great beauty in "Queen of Sheba," the marriage festival at the court of King Aram, the arrival at King Solomon's court, the day of races and games, including the chariot race between the Queen of Sheba and the Princess Vasthi; the arrival of David, son of Solomon, the little prince of Sheba; the battle between the forces of Solomon and Adonijah, and the pathetic final departure of the Queen of Sheba to her own realm.

Retty Rhythe is a voluptuously royal and beautiful Queen of Sheba, and exactly the exacting role. Impressively besides showing great daring and skill in the chariot race; Fritz Leiber, the noted Shakespearean actor, is an effective Adonijah. Sell Craig is the Princess Vasthi, George Seligman in King

Armad and Claire de Lorez is Queen Aramath, wife of Solomon.

The chariot race in its thrilling realism came as a distinct surprise, bringing audible expressions of excitement and admiration from the audience.

All in all, it must be said that "Queen of Sheba" is unsurpassed. As a photoplay presenting a great love story with its utmost power of appeal, it is a dramatic triumph of the screen. William Pax, J. Gordon Edwards, the director, and all others who had the privilege of taking part in the production of "Queen of Sheba" or presenting to motion picture patrons, are entitled to hearty congratulations. "Queen of Sheba" will be remembered long after most of the screen specials of the season are forgotten.

Other pictures on the bill include Jack Hoxie in the third episode of "Thunderbolt Jack," a Mack Sennett comedy, a Burton Holmes Travelogue and a Pathe News.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Walter Hiers, perhaps the greatest light comedian in the realm of the silent drama, is providing rounds of laughter at the Merrimack Square theatre the first three days of the week in his latest screen production, "Sixty Cents an Hour." In this story, the star is seen with beautiful Jacqueline Logan, who supports him in an admirable manner as the daughter of the bank president in the typical western town of Zavaria, Cal. Hiers portrays the role of Jimmy Kirk, a soda "jerker" in the town's ice cream emporium, at a salary of $3.50 per week. Being of an ambitious nature Jimmy decides to become rich and secures a lease on a four-foot frontage between his place of employment and the Smith national bank, on which he takes a 99-year lease at $20 per month.

Zavaria, Cal., is a growing town and as such is infested with real estate agents, one of whom takes great delight in "kidding" the dispenser of sodas. The agent is also extremely interested in the bank president's daughter, but is outwitted by the clever Jimmy in his bid for her hand. Eventually he throws up his job in the drug store and accepts a position as night watchman in the bank. One night, while on duty, the bank is robbed and through unavoidable circumstances, Jimmy is accused of the theft.

When the robbery is discovered he is accused of it in the realm of the silent drama, is providing rounds of laughter at the Merrimack Square the-happens that the machine he borrowed was the one used by the robbers in the attack on the bank's safe and the loot is hidden in the compartment in the rear. Jimmy does not discover this until he meets with an accident and goes to the rear to look for a tool. Then he discovers the many bags of gold and decides to marry the girl of his love. She objects but is forcefully reconciled to her fate and later succumbs to the wiles of Cupid, and the couple are happily married.

In the meantime a reward is offered for the capture of the burglars. Jimmy gets the reward as he overcame the culprits on a lonely road, and took them to the police station. Besides the reward, Jimmy also claims a large sum from the bank because of the fact that the big building projects on his four-foot frontage contrary to the terms of the lease.

The other features on the program include an all-star cast in Kate Douglas Wiggin's story, "Timothy's Quest," and Hunter Keaton in "The Balloonatic."

THE STRAND THEATRE

"Mighty Lak" a Rose, Edwin Carver's latest creation, is the headliner at the Strand the first half of the week. It is a story contrasting the upper and lower levels of life; the sincerity of a blind girl and the evil inclinations of a gang of thieves.

The story opens against the drab background of New York's underworld. Here we meet "Bull" Morgan, the leader of a gang of thieves. His companions include Jimmie Harrison, a thief because he knows nothing else. In contrast comes Rose Duncan, a blind girl, who is a violinist. Through a trick of fate she falls into the clasp of Morgan who at once sees in her a good foil for his unlawful endeavors. Harrison soon falls under the good influence of the girl and the pair fall in love. The other members of the gang fall to be led by the good influence which Rose is casting about her and Jimmie finds it difficult to reason with them. They finally experience an awakening and they decide to rectify their habits. Not being able to gather enough money by honest means, the girl may be operated on and thereby have her sight restored, the gang decides to do one more "job." Jimmie is chosen to do the trick and is caught and imprisoned.

Later the girl has her sight restored and emerges as a musical virtuoso which promises her a bright future. On the night of her expected triumph Jimmie is released from jail and the singing of a once familiar song attracts him to the theatre where she is appearing.

The play then moves along with swift and dramatic impulse, and shows the cast in its best light.

"Money, Money, Money," the newest Katherine McDonald picture is the other attraction on the bill, and combines comedy and drama. A comedy and the Weekly complete the program, while the musical numbers by Al Forrest and Leo Betoncourt are always an added feature enjoyed by all.

"Bassinette" is really a word of French origin, meaning a cradle made of wicker.

Nation Unites in Prayer for President Harding's Recovery

COMPLETE REST FOR PRESIDENT

Sick Room on Top Floor of Palace Hotel, Known to Thousands of Visitors

Though Stone's Throw Off Main Street it Is So Sheltered as to Insure Quietness

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—President Harding's sick room, scene of the fight on which all eyes in America were turned today, is a quiet room on the top floor of the Palace hotel, known to thousands of San Francisco visitors. It looks from three arched windows over a balcony toward the hills of western and northern San Francisco and though it is barely a stone's throw off Market street, the city's chief thoroughfare, it is so sheltered in a quiet side street and so far above the pavement as to be little disturbed by the noise of traffic below.

On either side of it are the rooms assigned to Mrs. Harding, and the living room of the presidential suite. Across the hall from it are the quarters of the president's personal staff. Beyond Mrs. Harding's room is the room of the president's personal physician, Dr. Gen. Sawyer, while beyond the living room and around the corner of the hotel and fronting on Market street, is the dining room of the suite, and behind this is a kitchen.

Beneath the presidential rooms, on the seventh floor, are the suites of the cabinet officers, who are members of the presidential party.

The appointments of the suite throughout are such that, according to Dr. Gen. Sawyer, the possibility of moving the president to a hospital for treatment, need not even be considered.

"We are as well equipped to take care of Mr. Harding here, right here in this hotel, in this city, as we could be anywhere in the world," said Dr. Sawyer.

Has Gotten Into Clear Sailing

greatest battle of his career—a struggle in which his life is at stake.

Arrived at the hotel, he was met by Dr. Sawyer, who, after a brief examination, pronounced him to be in a state of collapse, symptoms of which were discovered by the attending physicians late last night, and also the danger of other complications. Arrived in his fever, he has calm determination, a subsidence of the earlier abdominal trouble, and the hopes and prayers of a nation. His condition is an admittedly weakened physical resistance.

Physicians Optimistic

None of the five attending physicians will predict the outcome, although all are optimistic. No word

PRESIDENT URGED TO CALL EXTRA SESSION

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 31.—President Harding was urged to call an extra session of congress without delay to deal with agricultural problems affecting the nation, at a conference of four northwestern senators here yesterday.

The session was attended by Senators Smith, W. Brookhart, of Iowa, Lamm, of Frazier, of North Dakota, and Senator-elect Magnus Johnson, and Henrik Shigstad, of Minnesota.

The telegram, signed by each of the senators, was sent to the president at San Francisco, with the request that it be delivered when the president's health permits.

It set forth that the condition of agriculture threatens a national calamity and that only an extraordinary session of congress can avert the calamity.

GAME POSTPONED

NEW YORK, July 31. (American.)—Chicago-New York game postponed, rain.

MRS. WARREN G. HARDING, Wife of President, Becomes Nurse.

came from the sick room during the early hours today, it having been agreed after a bulletin was issued at 9:15 o'clock last night that no additional formal statement would be made until about 8 o'clock this morning, unless there occurred a decided change, one way or the other. So, to those who wait, no news is considered good news.

The 9:15 bulletin, issued after a consultation of the five physicians attending the president, contained the first announcement that broncho-pneumonia had developed in the right lung, although a statement given out four hours previously had spoken of "evolution of some congestion in one lung." It also conveyed the first authoritative information that his condition had turned from "serious" to "grave."

Temperature Stays at 101

The bulletin also contained rays of hope, for it said that "nourishment is being taken regularly and the abdominal symptoms are less noticeable, and that the chief executive was 'temporarily well adapted to make a strong fight against the infection.' Another favorable statement was that his temperature was remaining constant at 101 degrees, even though his pulse continued at about 125 as compared with his normal of 80 and his respiration was about 41.

The broncho-pneumonia symptoms, described in the bulletin as "definite central patches" were discovered both clinically and by the X-ray which was used yesterday afternoon and continued to be used during the night.

All of the physicians who have been called in spent the night within easy reach of the executive's bedside and Dr. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer, his personal physician, and Dr. Gen. Joseph T. Boone, assistant to Dr. Sawyer, were in the sick room nearly all the time.

Dr. Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, who has participated in all consultations, visited the president's room from time to time. Dr. Work, who from the first has been most calm, appeared perturbed for the first

SOVIET THREATENS TO SEIZE SHIP

NOME, Alaska, July 31. (By the Associated Press.)—Harold Nokes, head of the expedition to Wrangell island for the relief of Alan Crawford and his party, marooned there since 1920, has been advised of an announcement by the soviet authorities at Bart Cape, Siberia, that unless his ship, the Donaldson called at Petropavlovsk, Kamchatka, for proper clearance and also at East Cape for a contingent of Red Guards to be taken to the island, the vessel will be confiscated.

LEAVES BUSINESS TO HIS EMPLOYEES

SPRINGFIELD, July 31.—The will of Newell C. Mansur, of Holyoke, filed today, which disposes of an estate estimated at $200,000, provides that a dozen of his old employees shall take over and continue his printing business for the incorporation of which $100,000 is set aside in the will. The will also provides a fund of $5000 for the benefit of the Holyoke Day nursery.

RUSHED THROUGH HIS SPEECH AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Wash., July 31.—Followers of President Harding's Seattle speech Friday noticed he was apparently hurrying through his prepared address. Frequently the president rushed by periods, when brief pauses probably would have brought applause from the large gathering.

In spite of the illness from which he was suffering, the president at length, immediately after his illness, to make the previously cancelled trip to the children's orthopedic hospital. During the long drive up Queen Anne Hill, however, it was noticed Mrs. Harding was doing most of the honors in greeting the knots of people gathered at every corner along the route, which wended at and cheered the presidential party. At the hospital, President Harding did not leave the car, but, after a brief stop, speeded on toward the Press club.

Mrs. Harding, the audience at the stadium noticed, was watching the president closely during his address. Her concern at the time was set down to interest in the manner in which the vast crowd would receive the critical address on Alaskan problems.

time when at 9 o'clock last night he announced that a bulletin soon would be forthcoming.

Mrs. Harding at Bedside

None was more faithful at the president's bedside than Mrs. Harding, who since the executive was brought here Sunday morning, has obtained little sleep or rest. General Sawyer said that Mrs. Harding was standing the strain well, adding that she was of the type "who is best under fire."

Determined, he said, to give the American people all the facts in the case of the president, General Sawyer last night had a long talk with newspapermen, discussing the condition of the executive in non-technical language and answering all questions.

In his talk, Gen. Sawyer said a fight was on between the attacking forces, as represented in complications growing out of the original pneumonia poisoning and the president's physical resistance, weakened by nearly 40 days and approximately 7000 miles of travelling. The physician then added gravely:

"We are running with a very handicapped machine."

Sleep Aids in Fight

The problem faced is to strengthen and repair the machine, or physique so as to combat the attacks. Dr. Sawyer further explained.

Some aid to this end was afforded during the hours of the night immediately after midnight, when the president fell asleep. Everything possible conducive to sleep was done. Nothing could have been more likely to bring sleep to a sick man than the scene which presented itself at 1 o'clock this morning.

The corridor outside the presiden-

CARD. O'CONNELL SENDS TELEGRAM TO MRS. HARDING

BOSTON, July 31.—Cardinal O'Connell today sent the following telegram to Mrs. Harding:

"We are all deeply grieved because of the illness of our beloved president, and our priests and religious and the children of our schools are offering their prayers for his speedy recovery."

"We are also praying God to give you strength to bear your burden cheerfully, which we trust Providence will soon lighten."

Signed,

"CARDINAL O'CONNELL."

that suite was unoccupied, except for one secret service man, who sat at the far end and two others who guarded the approach to it. The only stir within half an hour occurred when Mr. Harding's valet crossed the corridor to another room and returned with some blankets, presumably for the use of one of the physicians who wanted to get a few minutes' sleep. Newspapermen waited at a respectful distance down another corridor and police stood guard at stairway entrances on the floor beneath, to prevent use of the stairs by all except a few authorized persons.

Partisanship Forgotten

Even the steady stream of telegrams, expressing solicitude and hope for the executive's speedy recovery, was temporarily shut off after a day in which the messages piled high on a desk in the secretary's office. These telegrams had been opened and read as soon as received, although none was made public. It was said they came from every state in the Union and from many foreign countries. Partisanship was forgotten and the names signed to the messages included leaders in the democratic as well as the republican party.

Airplanes Over City Barred

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—No airplanes will be permitted to fly over San Francisco while President Harding remains here.

An order prohibiting private planes from passing over the city was issued today by Police Chief O'Brien as a result of a conference last night, with secret service officers here with the president and army, navy and postal airplanes are confined by regulations to certain definite sections on the water front or near the landing fields on the outskirts of the metropolitan area.

Bryan Hopes For Recovery

MIAMI, Fla., July 31.—William Jennings Bryan last night expressed a wish that President Harding's illness

7500-MILE TRIP WORE DOWN PRESIDENT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Here is the record of work performed and difficulties undergone which wore down President Harding's physical condition, so that what was believed at first to be but a mild case of prostatic poisoning, developed into serious illness.

Covered by train, steamship and automobile approximately 7500 miles. Delivered 60 speeches, of which 13 were set addresses at night before large crowds, and represented careful and laborious preparation before hand. Exposed himself to all sorts of weather and arduous conditions to address eager crowds from rear platform of his special train.

Members of the presidential party declared that the making of some of these platform speeches, because of conditions encountered, was almost as wearing as the preparation and delivery of the set addresses.

In 20 days, slept only three nights outside his private car or off his ship. Maintained almost constant touch with his office in Washington, even while traversing Alaskan waters on his ship, and transacted much official business by telegraph, wireless and the mails.

Omitted his usual daily periods of exercise and recreation.

would not prove serious. In a brief statement, he said:

"I am greatly distressed to hear of the president's illness and trust that it will not be serious. The country will anxiously watch for the bulletins with a very earnest wish for his rapid recovery."

Daughterly Rushes to Frisco

SEATTLE, Wash., July 31.—Hastening to President Harding's bedside, General Henry M. Daugherty passed through this city last night on his way to San Francisco from Vancouver, B. C.

Mr. Daugherty arrived on the steamer Princess Charlotte and eagerly asked for news of the president as he hurried in a taxicab to the railroad station.

From the station he telephoned to the president's headquarters in San Francisco. He ignored letters and telegrams awaiting him at a hotel here.

Sen. Reed Expresses Regret

SANTA ANA, Cal., July 31.—James A. Reed, democrat senator from Missouri, last night, expressed regret for the illness of President Harding and expressed the hope that the crisis would be passed quickly and successfully. Senator Reed is here for a brief rest.

Was Ill at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 31.—While he was en route through the elaborate program prepared for his reception here Thursday, President Harding was suffering from the ill-effects of Alaska crab, which he had eaten.

DR. HUBERT WORK, Secretary of Interior, Called in Consultation.

was the statement made by Mayor Tisdell, last night.

"I sat next to the president at the elvish luncheon, and during that time he informed me that he was suffering acutely from what he thought was indigestion from eating crab more taken on board at Alaska," said the mayor. "I am sorry that it has turned out to be even more serious and, with all Canadians, I wish President Harding a speedy recovery."

Mayor Tisdell also commented on the gracious manner in which the president went through with his reception arrangements here, although "he must have been feeling far from well."

Gen. Pershing Shocked

LOS ANGELES, July 31.—General John J. Pershing, who is touring the military training camps in the country, just before leaving Los Angeles for San Diego, early today, said he was "extremely grieved and shocked to learn of the serious turn of President Harding's illness."

"He is my close friend and very much beloved," said General Pershing. "The nation will surely be in suspense until he is out of danger. The only thing for Americans to do in this anxious hour is to hope and pray for his speedy recovery."

London Expresses Sympathy

LONDON, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Harding's illness is attracting sympathetic interest here and reports of his condition are displayed prominently by the newspapers. The press also prints his portraits.

Although Mr. Harding is unknown here personally, his record is familiar to the British public through the newspapers and he is always referred to with respect. The Daily Chronicle in an editorial expresses the hope that there will soon be better news from San Francisco, adding:

"The office the president holds assures him the sincere interest and regard of the British public. They respect him as the chosen head of the largest community in the world which speaks his own language."

Two young men volunteered to give them a lift in their car. They did not know the young men, and Miss Whitney claims that shortly after they left the lake one of the young men attempted to assault her and she jumped out.

The Billerica police say that the young men called each other "Maui" and "Nap," but up to the present time they have nothing further upon which to work.

ROTARIANS AT MOUNT PLEASANT GOLF CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Rotary club, the fourth under the summer schedule, was held this noon at the Mt. Pleasant Golf club and was attended by about 30 members. Luncheon was served in the dining hall of the clubhouse at 12:30 o'clock by the Page Catering Co., and following this a short business session was held. In accordance with the rules for the summer meetings there was no after-dinner speakers.

AIR OF SORROW AND ANXIETY

Expressions of Regret Manifested From Highest to Lowest at Washington

Harding's Warm-heartedness and Human Kindness Made Friends Everywhere

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—Awakened to a realization of the seriousness of President Harding's illness, the national capital went about its business today with a manifest air of sorrow and anxiety. From the highest and the lowest in the government service, there were expressions of regret, for during his two years and a half in the White House, Mr. Harding has made contact with many hundreds of those with whom he publicly has classed himself as a "worker for the government," and his warm-heartedness, human kindness have made friends for him everywhere.

Only two cabinet members, Secretary Hughes and Postmaster General New are in Washington and both of them requested that the latest advice to come from San Francisco over the wires of the Associated Press be telephoned directly to their offices. Most of the members of the supreme court and of congress likewise are away from the capital but those remaining kept in constant touch with the latest developments at the president's bedside.

Sec. Davis Wires Sympathy

LONDON, July 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—James J. Davis, American secretary of labor, sent a cable message to Brig. Gen. Sawyer, President Harding's personal physician, expressing the secretary's sympathy for the president and asking to be kept informed of his condition. Unless the president improves meanwhile, Secretary Davis plans to sail for New York tomorrow instead of Aug. 7, as he had originally intended.

Dr. Harding Notified

MARION, Ohio, July 31.—The only direct word Dr. G. T. Harding, father of the president, has received from his son's bedside, was a telegram late last night from Mrs. Harding, stating that pneumonia had set in. Dr. Harding said that he did not expect to go to San Francisco, as the distance was too far and the trip too much for a man of his age.

The doctor eagerly scanned newspapers and waited with anxiety for "copy" from the news services telling about his son.

Dr. Harding's condition epitomized the feeling of Marion citizens. There was a subdued air in the streets and a prevailing tenderness.

OUTDOOR SHOWER BATHS DELIVERED

Two outdoor shower baths, five of which recently were ordered by the park department, were delivered today. The other three will arrive by the end of the week. On the first hot day the showers will be attached to hydrants near the North common, Shedd park and wherever there seems to be a need. It is believed these showers will become the most valued and most used equipment of the department.

At the Ladies Aid Meeting Yesterday

Mapl-Flake was the big subject of conversation. Mrs. Brown said:

"The thing I like about it is that there is enough bran in the whole wheat to keep my family regulated, and they don't even know they are eating bran."

In addition to the bran in Mapl-Flake, it is a perfectly balanced food, rich in phosphorus and lime for making brain, nerve and bone; in iron for making good red blood, and in the life-giving vitamins so necessary to good health.

Good for Children

Mapl-Flake is selected whole wheat, sweetened, flaked, and toasted to a delicious brown. It is so appetizing and tasty that you would never guess it is 25% bran—enough to be a harmless, natural, non-habit-forming laxative. Be a "Mapl-Flaker"—it's the food that keeps you "right."

Dog Weeps Sadly, Refuses to Eat While Master Is in Jail

PORTLAND, Ore., July 31.—Jiggs, like many men and women, had but one real friend in the world. And to him Jiggs clung with a tenacity that surprised even his bull-dog nature.

"Bulldog nature" is no metaphor. Jiggs is a bulldog. An English bull, well formed, thoroughbred.

And his one friend was "Bluebeard" McPool, a big, gaunt old man, grim and taciturn.

McPool, so the courts said, made bootleg whisky, and sold it. He was thrown into jail. And Jiggs, dimly understanding that disaster rapidly was overtaking him, was led away to the Humane Society kennel.

McPool didn't come that first night to feed him. And Jiggs wondered. He didn't eat what the kind officials of the society put before him. He wanted only the one person in all the world he knew was his friend.

For 18 days this continued. Jiggs refused to eat. A full, melancholy, sinking sensation welled him. He suffered what so many humans suffer when they are inwardly hurt and have no loved one to give them comfort.

On the sixteenth day the society could stand it no longer. Jiggs' abject sorrow struck the minor scales of their heartstrings. They took the dog, now a bag of skin and bones, to call on McPool at the jail.

Jiggs saw his friend, and crept across the concrete floor. He snuggled into McPool's arms.

And he cried.

Jiggs shed real tears—and so did McPool, and others who stood about, not wanting to see, but fascinated by the sight of a dog weeping.

They brought Jiggs food, and he gulped it down.

The time to go came, and Jiggs had to be forced away from his loved one. But the dog will be taken into the home of an official of the Humane Society, and every few days will be allowed to visit McPool, who must serve at least 90 days and then work out a fine of $500, which may keep him in the better part of a year.

Which is being punished more—McPool or his best friend, Jiggs?

SMITH HELD IN $8000

Admits Breaking and Entering Various Yachts and Boat-houses Along Shore

SALEM, July 31.—Howard Ellis Smith of Salem, N. Y., who was arrested last night by the Manchester, Mass., police on a charge of breaking and entering various yachts and boat-houses along the north shore, pleaded guilty to seven counts for such offenses at district court this morning and was held for the grand jury, bail being set at $8000, which he was unable to furnish. Smith, according to his confession, had a rendezvous on Kettle Island, off Manchester, at which place all the loot was recovered. He had a room in a boarding house on Lynde street, in this city.

CLASS REUNION IN CHELMSFORD

For the first time in 29 years the members of the class of 1894, of the Chelmsford high school, with their teacher, Miss Susan M. Emerson, were with one exception, present together last evening. Old times, good and indifferent, were recalled and "do you remember" the slogan of the evening. In order to make the reunion more like former days, the class met in former classroom at 7 o'clock with Miss Emerson at the desk. At 8 o'clock, the members with their husbands and wives assembled in the Chelmsford vestry where a banquet was served. During the course of the spread, members spoke of past and present happenings, and some told of their accomplishments since '94. Miss Emerson was presented a gold pencil and leather covered note book during the evening. There were 18 members of the class of 1894, five girls and five boys, all but one, Harry Dutton of Boston, being present. Those making up the class were as follows: Edward J. Robbins, who was class president; Edwin L. Stevens; William H. Fulton; Ralph W. Emerson; Harry Dutton; Misses Alice Stearns; Edna B. Parkhurst; Agnes N. Court; Jessie H. Wiggins and Mabel F. Emerson.

GAMES NEXT WEEK FOR CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

This week will conclude the preliminary games in the city championship and next week the games for the championship will be played. There will be in all eight championships to be determined. Track meets for both boys and girls will be conducted on the South common for boys on August 16 and for girls Aug. 17. The winners in these events will represent the city of Lowell in the Merrimack valley track games on Aug. 23, in which it is expected several cities will compete.

The winners of the several leagues for boys and girls will compete for the championship in baseball, volleyball for girls and boys of the two classes, boys and girls under 16 and boys and girls under 17 years of age.

The teams which have at this date indicated an ability to be in the running for the city championship are:

Girls' volleyball: Butler, South Common, Washington, Pawtucket, North Common, Varnum, Juniors, South Common, Washington, North Common, Aiken, Greenhalge.

Girls' baseball: Seniors: Greenhalge, Butler, South Common, North Common, Aiken, Pawtucket, Washington, Juniors: Butler, South Common, Washington, Greenhalge.

There is to be a meeting of the captains of the various teams on Thursday of this week to arrange the championship schedule and this schedule will be published.

SUMMARY OF EARLY MORNING A. P. NEWS

Cloudbursts sweep western Maryland counties making the Patuxent river overflow and causing damage that may reach millions.

Net reduction of $151,594,387 in government receipts during the next fiscal year is predicted by Herbert M. Lord, director of the budget, in report to President Harding.

Pope Pius and King Victor Emmanuel express deep concern over illness of President Harding.

French and Belgian ambassadors hand to Lord Curzon the replies of their governments to British reparations note.

Potatoes and fair may determine Curzon ministry's further tenure of office; if government can get the needed funds, crisis will be temporarily solved, Berlin advices declare.

Three-American negotiations take another unfavorable twist and Washington must decide if a convention is to be signed, Lau-ann message says.

MEETING OF POSTAL AND BUSINESS MEN

A conference-convention of postal employees and business men will be held in Faneuil hall, Boston, August 9. This will be an "open forum," held under the auspices of the post-office department, for the purpose of discussing postal problems, and it will be of interest of business men throughout the state who have any difficulty with their mail service or who desire a change in their mail service, to attend. Either the postmaster-general or his first assistant will act as chairman of the meeting and a large attendance is expected.

Postmaster Delisle said today that practically all of the postmasters in this state will attend the convention and a large delegation of postal employees from the larger stations will also be present. He hopes that the business men of the city will send representatives if they cannot be present themselves so that an ample opportunity will be had for discussing the mail service in Lowell.

THE PILL HOLD-UP

THIS actually happened and is well worth telling.

The drug clerk was just about to close up. It was getting late. The last policeman to rub his nose against the plate glass window, was far down the avenue when the clerk switched off the electric lights and turned the lock. Then it all happened.

A man rushed up to the door. "Say, man, I want a box of Beecham's Pills. Simply must have them!" he exclaimed. "Store's closed for the day," remarked the clerk as he pocketed the key. "Like thunder it is!" shouted the late comer. "I've got to have a box of Beecham's Pills tonight." The altercation grew heated. There was an exchange of blows.

Then the clerk took off his broken glasses, unlocked the door and handed out a 50 cent box of Beecham's Pills.

Can you beat it?

Beecham's Pills are so pleasantly effective in making sick stomachs well, sluggish livers active, and lazy bowels to function as they should, that Beecham's steadfast friends and supporters sometimes overflow with strenuous enthusiasm.

DISCUSS NEW LAND TAKING

Park Department Seeks Large
Tract Along River From
Locks and Canals

Right of Tenant-at-Will on Property Holds Up Action
on Matter

The park commission met at city hall yesterday afternoon for the purpose of discussing with a representative of the Locks and Canals Co., the acquisition by lease of 40,000 square feet of land along the riverbank in Riverdale street for park purposes. But after a considerable exchange of ideas the matter was left in the hands of City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds, with no action taken.

Present at the meeting were Clarence M. Weed, Harvey B. Greene and Thomas F. McKay of the park board, Supr. John W. Kerman, Solicitor Reynolds and William N. Goodell, representing the Locks and Canals.

The Locks and Canals is perfectly willing to lease the land to the city for park purposes, keeping only a title therein from the standpoint of riparian rights, but feels the city should compensate James H. Pillman, a tenant of the company on a section of the property, for the value of the building owned by him, which is $1200.

It was shown that the building is in a deplorable condition and constitutes a menace to public health and appeals by experts place its top value at $300. More than this the city is not inclined to pay.

Anxious to Lease Land to City

Mr. Goodell, speaking for the Locks and Canals, said his company is just as anxious to dispose of the land as is the city to acquire it. The only proposition advanced by the Locks and Canals is that it would like to retain title to the land from the standpoint of riparian rights.

It was brought out that the Locks and Canals feels some consideration should be given James H. Pillman, a tenant-at-will of the company, on a section of the land the city seeks to acquire. The assessment on the building in 1922 was $1200 and Mr. Goodell thought that would be fair compensation for the tenant, inasmuch as he paid taxes on that sum.

City Solicitor Reynolds showed pictures of the building in question in its present condition and it was informally agreed that the building is not worth more than $300, according to estimates submitted by real estate experts.

After looking at the pictures of the building as presented by Solicitor Reynolds, the board unanimously expressed the feeling that the structure showed evidence of willful neglect. It also was brought out that the building constituted a nuisance and a menace to public health.

It was suggested that the Locks and Canals order Mr. Pillman off the land, but Mr. Goodell said his company is not disposed to do so, but if the inspector of public buildings or board of health could step in and condemn it and thus cause its demolition, it would be out of Locks and Canals hands.

The matter was left in the hands of the city solicitor, who was instructed to draw up a vote calling for the removal of the building property adjacent to the Pillman building, after which some action may be taken on the matter without an amended order of seizure for the Richmond street playgrounds.

City Engineer Stephen Kearney petitioned for the removal of a tree in East Merrimack street that interfered with new paving. One other removal petition was granted and another was referred to the tree committee with power to act.

Financial Statement Submitted

Supr. John W. Kerman submitted a statement of departmental expenses for the month of July which showed expenditures of $5589.01, leaving a present-day balance of $35,767.77. Monthly bills amounting to $509.35 were approved.

It was reported by Mr. Greene that progress is being made in the construction of a new wall along the river bank, bordering the new Varnum park extension.

The following new playground supervisors were appointed: Sadie L. McLendon, 274 Chestnut street; Theodore J. Parham, 50 Phillips street; Alpheus J. Archib, 284 Fletcher street; and Arthur C. Sullivan, Waverly ave.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Autoist Fined For Driving
While Intoxicated—Liquor
and Other Cases

Thomas Scanlon pleaded guilty before Judge Enright in district court today, to charges of drunkenness and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $100 on the latter complaint and the drunkenness charge was fled.

Alexander Gagnon pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal keeping of liquor and a fine of $100 was levied. Cyril Gagne was before the court for drunkenness. His wife testified against him and the court ordered him sent to the house of correction for five months, revoking a previous suspended sentence for non-support.

Augustus L. Williams and Frank E. Maguire each pleaded not guilty to drunkenness and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor and the cases were continued until August.

George E. Kennedy was ordered committed to the state farm. James C. Butte, charged with drunkenness, was given a suspended sentence of five months.

The case of Louis Daouton, charged with assault, was dismissed as the complaining party did not care to prosecute.

Frederick J. Westlund was fined $20 on a larceny complaint a week ago and given until today to pay, was called and defaulted. The fine has not yet been paid, and Judge Enright ordered a capias issued for his arrest.

The continued case of larceny against Henry Charles Curtis was fled, as civil satisfaction has been made.

Safety Lessons FOR The Auto Driver

Prepared by the National Safety
Council—Issued by the Massachusetts Safety Council.
NO. 21. AUTO ACCIDENT STA-TISTICS

In the United States, in 1922 there were approximately 58,000 persons accidentally killed. Of this number, only 22,000 were killed in industry. The remainder (36,000) were killed on the streets and in the homes. Over 14,000 persons were killed as the result of automobile accidents. This is the largest number that can be attributed to any one cause.

It can truly be said that the automobile is the most deadly peace-time machine. While in the industries, on the railroads and electric railways and in the mines, through organized safety, the hazards are coming under control and accidental deaths are being reduced, the fatalities from automobile accidents are mounting by leaps and bounds.

Deaths caused by automobiles, grew from 2500 in 1911 to 14,000 in 1922—a 600 per cent increase—although auto accident deaths in comparison with the number of automobiles has decreased.

Probably not more than one-fourth of the people in the United States are exposed to industrial hazards, but practically every one the moment he leaves the door step or his garage is exposed to the automobile hazard on the streets.

Deaths from automobiles are increasing each year with the increase in the number of automobiles. In 1910 there were 400,000 automobiles operated in our country and approximately 2300 people were killed as the result of automobile accidents.

In 1922 there were 12,000,000 automobiles and over 14,000 deaths. This is more than one-half the number of people who were killed in all our industries, mines and railroads in the same period of time.

In 1922, the automobile was responsible for 77 per cent of all deaths caused by vehicles, over 14,000 deaths. This number caused by railroads and seven times the deaths due to street railways.

Whether or not this death rate will continue to increase depends largely upon the efforts put forth by individual drivers to avoid automobile accidents, and pedestrians to avoid them.

EL PASO, Tex., July 31.—Reports that Cancho Villa had hidden at Parol, Chihuahua, a fortune in gold and silver were exaggerated, according to Juan Terrazas, who was in El Paso, today from Chihuahua City.

"The probability of a few hundred thousand pesos hidden around Parol," said Juan Terrazas, "but the fortune was not nearly so large as the stories about it say."

FUEL COMMISSION BEGINS SURVEY OF R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 31.—State Fuel Commissioner George H. Webb today began a survey of Rhode Island to ascertain the amount of hard and soft coal on hand, sold and unsold, and an estimate of the needs to carry the state through to April 1, 1924. He also asked the dealers for their opinion as to the outlook for a normal supply of anthracite fuel, while in the event that there is no coal strike next month.

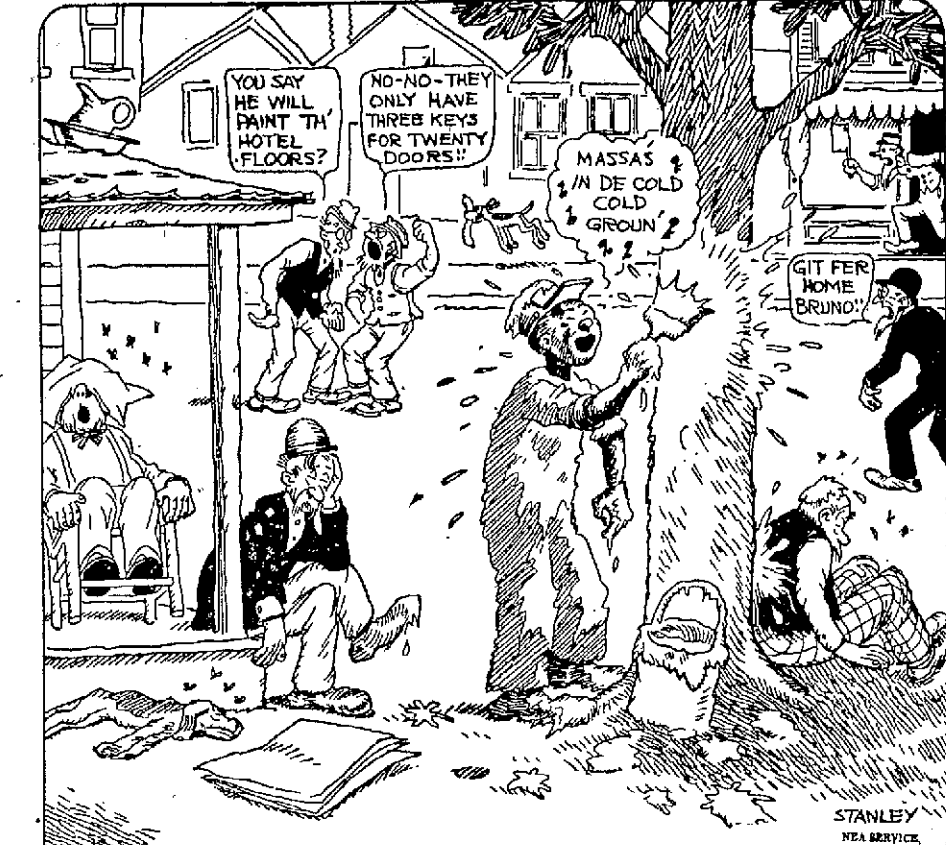

SISLER HOPES TO RETURN TO GAME

ST. LOUIS, July 31.—George Sisler today asserted that he had high hopes of playing with the St. Louis Americans before the end of the season. He added that his vision was much improved and that he was able to hit a golf ball with regularity. Persons who have watched Sisler on the links say the quality of his game indicates no evidence of seriously impaired vision.

TOOK BOY TO HOSPITAL

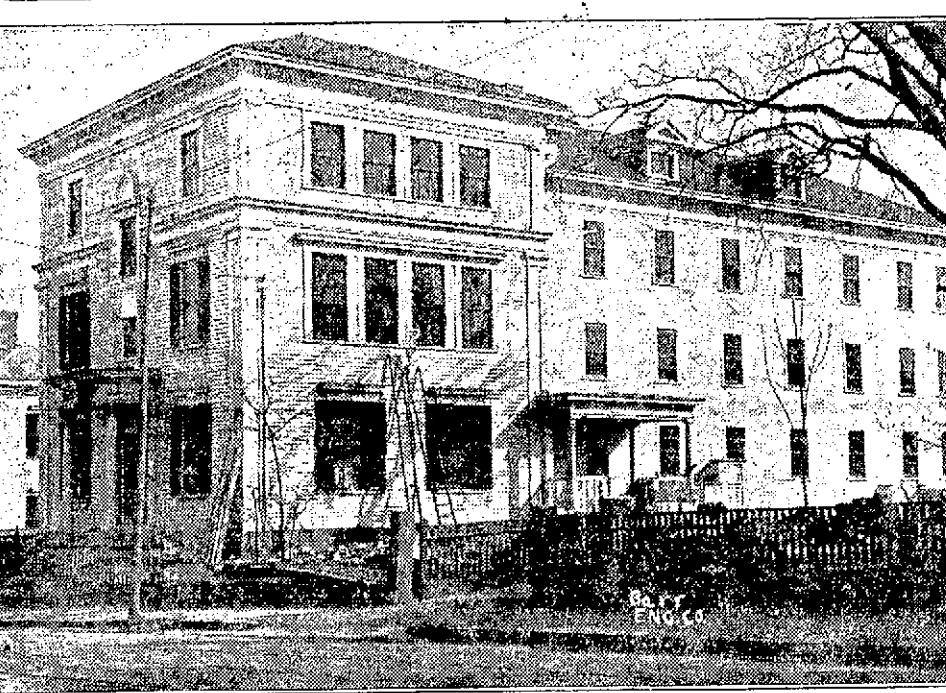

Harry L. Farnham of Lynn reported to the police today that while driving down Lawrence street, a boy named Michael Dally of 43 Glen Avenue had fallen in front of his machine but that before he had stopped the machine before striking the boy. He took the boy to St. John's hospital where he is being kept under observation.

Nurses' Home at Lowell Corporation Hospital

its successor adds to the appearance of the locality in general and the hospital itself in particular. Nothing was left undone to make it a real home and Miss Halliburton Kelly, supervisor of nurses, stated today that the building is a model of aesthetic beauty and will meet with the heartiest appreciation from the nurses.

The building measures 62 by 35 feet and contains three stories and an attic. On the main floor is the reception room, handsomely designed and equipped with elaborate electrical fixtures. Beautiful draperies adorn the window frames, while the hardwood floors are made doubly attractive with expensive art squares of brilliant and unusual design. The superintendent's living quarters and chamber, with new and attractive mahogany furniture, lend a harmonious effect to the entire interior. A fine draperies and colored tapestries make the superintendent's rooms charmingly homelike.

The individual bed rooms for the nurses, with entrances from the long and light-colored corridors, are furnished with spacious closets with all modern improvements. Each of the closets is illuminated by a window and is large enough to house every necessity. The floors are neatly tiled and carpeted, and the beds, cozy and inviting. Every room in the building is supplied with a top fire escape, while each of the three floors contains an ell with complete toilets, lavatories, closets and baths.

On the first and second floors, sun rooms, 5 by 25 feet, have been added, and one of the more modern apparatus is a dust chute on the main corridor of the first floor which by an electrical process, carries the dust and deposits in a roof compartment. A modernized laundry, containing set tubs, ironing boards and electric irons, is located in the basement.

DEPARTMENT IS AHEAD WILL TAKE COMMAND OF OF WORK SCHEDULE INFANTRY REGIMENT

Col. Alfred Ains, chief recruiting officer of the first corps area, has been ordered to Fort Benning, Ga., to take command of an infantry regiment there. Col. Ains has been in charge of recruiting in this district for about three years and has proved exceptionally popular with the men under his command.

He is well known in Lowell for his work in charge of the Citizens' Military Training camp at Davenport when it was first held and was as popular in that position as he has since been in the recruiting office.

Supt. T. J. Kimball, local recruiting officer has served under Col. Ains for three years and says that there was never a fairer or better liked man in command of recruiting in this district, and stated that the colonel always gave the men in the branch offices an opportunity to present their side of every question that arose in the course of their work.

PLASTER WORK OPEN
The city building inspector today opened bids on a proposal to plaster rooms and corridors in the high school annex damaged by fire. M. P. Connor bid $1232 and Austin Gallery, $1300.

THE ISOLATION HOSPITAL

Legislative Committee Well
Pleased With Conditions at
Local Institution

The joint legislative committee on state administration, sitting as a recess committee for the purpose of visiting tuberculosis hospitals, visited the isolation hospital on Varnum avenue yesterday afternoon, and was greatly pleased with the management, appearance of the building and the accommodations.

The committee arrived in Lowell at 4 o'clock and was met by Dr. Foster H. Smith, superintendent of the hospital. Every bit of the hospital property was thoroughly investigated by the committee and at the conclusion of the investigation, at about 5:30 o'clock, the consensus of opinion was that for management, appearance and general conditions, the hospital was all that could be desired, and one member of the committee said, it is too bad that the other hospitals in the state are not as well taken care of as this one.

Chairman Early complimented Dr. Smith highly for his work as superintendent of the hospital also. He said that the isolation hospital had made a very favorable impression upon him and he stated that he believed it to be one of the best the committee had visited to date. He also said that in his opinion it was one of the best conducted hospitals in the state.

The committee is headed by Representative Bernard Early of Newton and is now making a tour of the state, county and city hospitals for the purpose of ascertaining what changes should be made in the law, passed five years ago that compelled all cities and counties to provide contagious hospitals. After thoroughly investigating conditions all through the state, the joint committee will introduce a bill next January providing a settlement of this matter.

Senator Charles P. Howard of Reading, speaking about this investigation today, said that the state as a whole has too many beds but that Middlesex county has not enough beds to take care of its sick. Two courses are open to the committee, and they are that they recommend the combining of areas so that the districts having too large a hospital may take care of the sick from a district where the hospital is inadequate, or recommend that new hospitals be built.

Prior to visiting the Lowell hospital, the committee had visited the contagious hospitals in Lawrence and Haverhill. The party consisted of Representative Bernard Early, chairman; Senator Charles P. Howard of Reading; Senator Warren T. Bell of Somerville; Representative Bert Dwyer of Malden; Representative Joseph Larson of Everett; Representative Susan Fitzgerald of Boston; Dr. Sumner Remick, director of the tuberculosis division of the state department of health, and Dr. Lyman A. Jones, district health officer, state department of health.

A number of years ago the state purchased a ten-acre tract of land for a new Normal Art school in Boston and this project, still in the air, seems to have the right of way over all other needed improvements and enlargements. Until Boston gets its new normal art school, then the Lowell school along with the normal school equipment it now has.

It is a rather unusual situation, but the state department is governed entirely in its amount of spending money by the appropriation voted by the legislature and until this is substantially increased, no great amount of normal school expansion is anticipated either in Lowell or elsewhere.

WALTER E. GUYETTE Auctioneer

53 Central Street, Lowell, Mass. Telephone 6916-6917

THE TWO STORY FRAME DWELLING AND FOUR FEET OF LAND AT NO. 63 SAN STREET, IN MERRIMACK, MASS. IS HEREBY PLEDGED TO THE HIGHEST BIDDERS AT UNRESTRICTED PUBLIC SALE ON NEXT SAT- URDAY, AT 2 O'CLOCK P. M.

The house has seven rooms, besides bath room, parlor, hot and cold water, and gas, sewer, etc. There are reception hall, parlor, living room, dining room and kitchen and pantry and bath room in the first floor, and three large, bright and airy chambers on the second floor. The roof is of Neponset fireproof shingles. The cellar is 8 ft. high, is lighted with extra well lighted. The lot has a total area of 3000 square feet with a frontage on "A" street, of 40 feet, and is fenced on all sides. The property as it stands makes a most attractive home, the 1 1/2 lots of pleasing design, with its bay windows and front veranda, and side piazza, and a setting on a corner of the lot gives ample yard room for a driveway, space for a garage and small garden. The premises are situated in an excellent neighborhood, where about everyone was his own home. The location is within a step of Powell Street and within three minutes comfortable walking distance of the Chesapeake Street Line of electric cars.

In a word, this sale should especially appeal to the many home-seekers, as cottage houses of this size and dimensions in a location of this character are very few and are not being offered for sale, and more particularly at a public sale.

TERMS: $300 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off.
By Order of FRANCIS M. QUA, Attorney.

NORMAL SCHOOL

OVERCROWDED
Between 30 and 50 Young
Women Will Be Turned
Away This Fall

Same Conditions Said to
Exist in Each of State's Ten
Training Schools

At least 20 and possibly more young women anxious to start upon teaching careers will be turned away from the Lowell Normal school this coming fall because of lack of room. Most of these girls will go on a waiting list for next year, while a few may enter a normal school elsewhere, provided that school, too, is not filled to capacity.

It is safe to say that not more than two of the state's ten normal schools, one of which is the Normal Art school in Boston and the other the normal school at Plymouth, will not have full quotas when the school year begins in September.

The distressing part of the condition in Lowell is that no relief seems possible within the near future and this, coupled with the probability that each succeeding year will find more and more young women in the Merrimack valley anxious to enter the school, with no expansion in accommodations, makes a serious educational situation.

Clarence M. Weed, principal of the Lowell Normal school, in the city temporarily during his summer vacation, said today that he fully expects to be forced to turn away 30 or more young women who will be certified for entrance before school begins in the fall. The school can accommodate an entering class of 120; 24 young women already have been certified and between 60 and 70 others are in the process of certification. The result will be overcrowding and many disappointed girls anxious to become teachers, will have to wait another year.

About two years ago the state purchased the Parker estate which adjoins the present school grounds, with the intention of building a dormitory, a school dormitory thereon. Asked today when the dormitory might be expected, Mr. Weed's reply was, in effect, that it might be five years, maybe ten in the future. The state department of education contends that it would be inadvisable to build a dormitory in Lowell unless a new school building also was erected, for the dormitory would attract many more young women than at present and to properly develop more class room space should precede a dormitory building.

A number of years ago the state purchased a ten-acre tract of land for a new Normal Art school in Boston and this project, still in the air, seems to have the right of way over all other needed improvements and enlargements. Until Boston gets its new normal art school, then the Lowell school along with the normal school equipment it now has.

It is a rather unusual situation, but the state department is governed entirely in its amount of spending money by the appropriation voted by the legislature and until this is substantially increased, no great amount of normal school expansion is anticipated either in Lowell or elsewhere.

2000 PILGRIMS LEAVE ROME FOR LOURDES

ROME, July 31.—A band of 2000 pilgrims left today for Lourdes, France, to visit the famous shrine. Pope Pius received the delegation, but insisted that the 2000 pilgrims whom it included should not be taken to the Vatican lest they be further fatigued. He sent these sufferers the apostolic blessing, and his good wishes for their recovery.

Reserve for training at the Citizens' Military Training camp.

The annual summer party of St. Mary's Star of the Sea church, Beverly, will take place on August 3. Lowell people will undoubtedly attend this affair as a compliment to the pastor, Rev. John J. Connelley, formerly pastor of St. Columba's church, this city.

The following members of the fire department leave Thursday for their annual vacation period: Lieut. G. H. McVernett and Privates G. A. Crawford, H. E. Flinnery, E. J. Geary, J. J. Buckley, R. E. Kennedy, J. H. Lannon, M. P. McGinn, J. J. Norman, Jr., E. J. O'Donnell, W. F. Riley, F. O. J. Townsend and J. H. Tracy.

Mr. Thomas A. Daly and Mr. Walter J. O'Brien, of Mitchell, the Tailor, have returned after a trip through the wilds of Maine. Several points of interest were visited, including Poland Springs, Moosehead lake, Old Orchard and Portland. Mrs. De' and family were also in the party.

Miss Emily Skilton, postmaster at Lowell today for a two week stay at the Conference of the Workers at East Northfield, Mass., has returned home today after a two week stay at Camp Ocklawaha, Lake Ocklawaha, Fla.

Policewoman Armstrong will leave Saturday for a two week stay at Camp Ocklawaha, Lake Ocklawaha, Fla.
